Ferry Capsizes, 150 Dead in New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — An ocean-going ferry with 614 aboard ran aground at Wellington harbor's mouth today and capsized in one of the fiercest storms in New Zealand's history. Officials feared 150 drowned.

With winds of up to 123 miles an hour lashing the seas into high waves, the 8,944-ton ferry Wahine keeled over and dumped passengers and crew into the icy water.

A rescue armada of small boats dared the high waves and plucked many survivors from the water. Others escaped in lifeboats. Searchers reported 42 bodies had been picked up, either in the water or along three miles of shore stretching from the harbor entrance.

Wellington hospitals were packed with survivors suffering from injuries or exposure. Other survivors were in private homes.

As night fell and searchlights swept the dark seas, officials said more than 100 passengers and crew were unaccounted for. Most survivors said that there was no panic when the Wahine hit and shoal or even when the ferry began to keel over.

Hilda Quinn said, however, there was chaos in the lounge, where many women and children were waiting.

"Women were running around calling for their children," she continued. "This is when they got separated."

"Tilting Right Over"

"It was terrible. The ship was tilting right over. To get to the boats we just sat down and slid to the rail, where men helped us in the boats. They were lifting little kiddies over the side and dropping them into a boat. My sister and I grabbed a baby each."

The Wahine, owned by the Union Steamship Co., hit a rocky shoal about 7 a.m. just inside Wellington Harbor as she neared the end of her daily 11-hour run up the east coast of New Zealand's South Island from Christchurch to Wellington, at the southern tip of North Island.

While gales of up to 123 miles an hour made the sea boil around her, the Wahine freed herself from the shoal and anchored about a mile offshore with a hole in her hull. A tug got a line aboard but it snapped.

An hour later the engineer's room was flooded and the ferry rapidly listed to starboard. The order to abandon ship was given. A steward reported the evacuation started in an orderly manner, with women and children going off first. But the ship capsized and went under as passengers and crewmen were still jumping from her.

The storm blew itself out and the sea calmed, leaving a strong tidal rip in the cold winter waters. Meanwhile, an armada of lifeboats and small craft combed the area, pulling the shaking survivors from the harbor and rushing them to shore.

Most of the survivors suffered from exposure. Wellington hospitals were packed, and casualty stations were set up in the railroad station and in public halls.

Humphrey to Wait Until After Easter To Enter Campaign

Vice President Starting Task of Seeking Convention Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will plunge into the race for the Democratic presidential nomination immediately after Easter.

The vice president now assesses his chances in a three-way contest with Sens. Robert S. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., as "looking good."

He has told friends he is more encouraged to make the race than he has to ever been to run for office in his political life.

The Humphrey campaign, once it is launched, will be aimed at the heart of nomination strength—the state conventions in which the majority of convention delegates are chosen.

No Primaries

The vice president has neither the money nor the inclination to go into presidential primaries. In line with this he instructed his friends not to enter a delegate slate for him even in his native South Dakota.

Delegate lists for Kennedy and McCarthy are being organized for the June 4 primary there. But Rod Barnes, organizer of a South Dakota drive for Humphrey, said in Huron Tuesday he had been told not to enter any slate for the vice president.

Humphrey is personally convinced he will have strong support from organized labor and the business community. This has been indicated in about 4,000 messages urging him to run after President Johnson's announcement that he would not accept renomination.

Support in South

The vice president feels he will have strong support in the South, which was lining up to back Johnson before the President said he would not run.

Although Johnson himself has offered no active political support, many of the President's backers are pledging help to Humphrey.

The vice president thinks the refusal of some of Johnson's mainstays, such as Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey and Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago, to make any commitments to candidates after the President's withdrawal is all to the good, so far as he is concerned.

He thinks he will be able to get substantial support within the 118-vote Illinois and the 82-vote New Jersey delegations. His backers already are chipping away at the 115-vote Ohio and 130-vote Pennsylvania delegations. He does not concede all of New York's 190 votes to Kennedy.

Humphrey's forces now claim

Dr. King's Funeral

It Was a Long Day

By KATHRYN JOHNSON
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — For the family of Martin Luther King Jr. the day began with a visit from Mrs. John F. Kennedy. It ended with the father leaning his head against his son's crypt and weeping.

Mrs. King had sat dry-eyed throughout the brief graveside ceremony but when her husband's body was placed in the crypt, she began weeping silently.

The Rev. King Sr. had sat with tears streaming down his face. After the body was put in, he put his gray head down on the crypt and wept openly.

It had been a long day.

It began for Mrs. King with whispered words of comfort from Mrs. Kennedy, who could perhaps understand her grief better than any other.

Private Talk

The two widows, both of whose families husbands were slain by assassin's bullets, clasped hands and talked privately for five minutes in Mrs. King's bedroom before the funeral.

Mrs. Kennedy, after signing the guest book, moved slowly down the long hall to the King bedroom, smiling and speaking softly to relatives of the Kings.

She paused briefly to speak to the four King children, who were all dressed up for their father's funeral.

The former first lady told Yolanda, the 12-year-old, who was wearing a white lace dress and mantilla, "I'm mighty glad to be here."

Stays in Seclusion

Mrs. King had risen early to greet her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Obediah Scott from Marion County, Ala. After that, she remained in seclusion in her bedroom.

Preparing for the day, she applied makeup to her mother's face, while friends and relatives ran around making beds, serving coffee, preparing food and dressing her children.

Bernice, a bright-eyed 5-year old, spilled juice on her white dress and it had to be washed out and ironed hurriedly.

During the funeral services, Mrs. King sat with her face veiled and her head erect. Afterward, she and the rest of the family joined the march of thousands as the casket reached Morehouse College.

The widow managed to retain her composure throughout. But when the crypt was closed she lowered her head and sobbed softly.

It was the end of a long day.

Rights Bill Passage Expected in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The move that would have permitted a House vote on sending the bill to conference.

Anderson said his mail was running two to one against the bill's open housing provision and said he realized his joining the Democrats would make him politically unpopular.

"But I don't feel isolated at all," he said. "This is a bipartisan matter."

He said pressure from both in and out of Congress "has been as much on this measure as I encountered in my eight years in Congress."

Only one hour had been allotted for debate before the voting begins. But with many delaying devices available to opponents, it could be late today before the issue is settled.

Provisions in the bill, particularly the open-housing section, have been the subject of talk for nearly two years in both the House and Senate. In 1966 the House passed an open-housing bill but the Senate refused to take it up.

Two other sections of the bill, one designed to protect civil rights workers and the other to make inciting a riot a federal crime, passed the House last year.

The bill would also extend the protections of the Bill of Rights to American Indians.

The only housing that would be exempt from the law when it's fully operative would be single-family housing sold or rented by the owner without the aid of any real-estate broker; dwellings with four or fewer units, if the owner lives in one of them, and housing operated by religious organizations or private clubs.

Colmer also told newsmen Tuesday he thinks the measure would instead have gone to a House-Senate conference committee charged with working out a compromise—particularly on the controversial open-housing provision.

Colmer called it "legislating under the gun" to consider the bill so soon after King's slaying. But the bill's supporters were predicting before King's death last Thursday that the legislation would be enacted in its present form.

A key figure in the committee's action was Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., who switched in favor of a yes-or-no House decision today after voting three weeks ago against such a move.

Before the final Committee vote, he joined seven Democrats to narrowly defeat—8 to 7—a

Move Reported Possible As Test of N. Vietnam's Willingness to Negotiate

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Johnson was reported today to be considering a total halt of the bombing of North Vietnam as a test of Hanoi's willingness to negotiate.

The President, in his March 31 announcement of a partial bombing halt, had said all bombing "could come to an early end — if our restraint is matched by restraint by Hanoi."

The Washington Post said today the President may consider the lifting of the siege at Khe Sanh in South Vietnam as a sign of Hanoi's willingness to talk. It also is believed that cessation of bombing north of the demilitarized zone would no longer add danger to American forces at Khe Sanh, due to the lifting of the siege.

In other developments related to peace negotiations:

North Vietnamese sources in Phnom Penh, the capital of Cambodia, stressed the unlikelihood that Hanoi would accept a site for preliminary talks other than Phnom Penh.

President Johnson ended a marathon war-and-peace strategy conference at Camp David, Md.

U.S. Ambassador William H. Sullivan met today with North Vietnamese diplomats in Vientiane, Laos, the fifth or sixth contact between American and North Vietnamese officials since April 3. Sullivan personally delivered President Johnson's counter-proposals to Hanoi's suggestion of Phnom Penh as the talks site.

No administration comment was immediately available on word reaching the United States early today that North Vietnam is insisting that any peace talks be held in Phnom Penh.

The U.S. government has been strongly opposed to that site since it no longer has diplomatic relations with Cambodia, a circumstance that could cause communications and logistics problems.

Visit by Admiral

Johnson's last official guest at Camp David was the U.S. Pacific commander, Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, who flew in by helicopter for an hour's visit Tuesday night. Sharp is retiring in July.

Latest activity on the Vietnam peace front began Monday when Johnson announced receipt of a formal message from Hanoi, replying to his own earlier communication to the North Vietnamese government.

In disclosing Tuesday that he had dispatched yet another message to North Vietnam, Johnson said the two adversaries in the Vietnam war were "discussing a number of alternative locations" for preliminary talks "which could be convenient to both sides."

100,000 Allied Troops Begin Hunt for Enemy

Biggest Operation Of War Centered Around Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — More than 100,000 troops of five nations fanned out today over the Saigon area and 11 provinces around the capital in the biggest allied offensive of the war. Only light, scattered action was reported, and a general lull in the ground fighting in Vietnam continued for the second day.

The U.S. Command announced that the big new sweep around the capital, Operation Toan Thang, or Complete Victory, began Monday. Its objective is the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops who got away from the 50,000 American and South Vietnamese troops in Operation Quyet Thang, or Resolved to Win.

Sweep of 5 Provinces

U.S. headquarters announced Tuesday that Quyet Thang, a sweep of five provinces around Saigon, had ended with 2,658 enemy killed. But when it began early in March, a force of 13,000 Viet Cong and units of two North Vietnamese regiments were reported maneuvering around the capital, possibly for a renewal of the Tet offensive against the city.

U. S. spokesmen explained that Quyet Thang and all other allied operations in the 3rd Corps area terminated Sunday, and all allied forces which had been participating in them began in Toan Thang on Monday.

"Continuation"

Brig. Gen. Winant Sidle, chief information officer for the U.S. Command, said Toan Thang is "only a continuation of what we were doing. It is designed to clear the enemy out and keep them on the run."

Another U.S. spokesman said combining the operations per-

Negroes' Unrest in Sixth Straight Night

Death Count Rises to 34 as Violence Strikes New Cities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Racial violence struck in major American cities for the sixth consecutive night since the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., raising the national death toll for the period to 34. All but five were Negroes.

While some of the worst hit cities cooled to the point where curfews were relaxed and patrols decreased, fresh outbreaks hit Tuesday in Trenton, N.J., Jacksonville, Fla., and Kansas City. Each city reported one death.

Major Fires

Firemen in New York City battled 25 fires which broke out almost simultaneously in a racially mixed Brooklyn slum which has been the scene of disturbances since King's murder in Memphis last Thursday.

In Newark firefighters responded to six major fires and 75 minor ones in the first incidents of arson reported in the heavily Negro Central Ward since last summer's riots.

But many Negroes helped firemen to carry hoses and authorities sent sound trucks through the streets broadcasting recordings of King's "I have a dream" speech.

Meanwhile calm generally prevailed in the stricken neighborhoods of Chicago and Pittsburgh and officials in Washington and Baltimore expressed cautious optimism that violence in their cities may have run its course.

Cyrus R. Vance, the President's special adviser to city officials in the nation's capital, said if progress toward restoration of law and order continues "we will be able to discuss shortly the orderly withdrawal of troops."

In Kansas City one Negro was

Czechs Promised Less Regulation, Increased Freedom

'Social Democratization' Guides Offered for New Constitution

PRAGUE. Czechoslovakia (AP) — Czechoslovakia's new Communist leaders are promising their countrymen freedom to travel and live abroad, less censorship and a reduction in the power of the secret police.

Party leader Alexander Dubcek also told Czechoslovak liberals Tuesday to concentrate on a new constitution with these guarantees and on improving the economy and to stop worrying about further purges of the old guard leadership.

An action program published by the Communist Party Tuesday outlined the guarantees for "social democratization" which it said would be incorporated in a new constitution.

It said citizens should have the right to travel freely abroad and reside in Western countries without being "groundlessly placed into the position of emigrants." Sources said planned legislation would permit issuance of passports without regard to the traveler's political attitudes.

Police Power
By reducing the powers of the secret police, the program said, the police should insure that the police cease to be an instrument to "solve internal political questions" and to control "political convictions and personal opinions."

The new leadership, which ousted Stalinist party chief Antonin Novotny in January, also said "factual preliminary censorship" would end although the government would retain authority to forbid dissemination of certain information.

In the economic field, the new regime is showing concern over production lags and inflationary trends. It seeks to remedy them by switching the emphasis from central planning to a market-oriented system with profit incentives.

Wage Revision
The action program called for revision of the wage structure so the economy would not be "permanently blunted by taking from those who work well and giving to those who work badly."

It said the consumer should have the right to "determine his consumption and his style of living."

Concrete proposals included wage increase of 2 1/2 to 3 per cent and introduction of a five-day work week by the end of the year, and measures to make the Czechoslovak currency freely convertible to attract Western investments.

Party Congress
In his statement, Dubcek opposed a proposal for a special party congress this summer to oust Novotny and his followers from the party central committee.

He added that current criticism must not "reject everything positive accomplished in the past 20 years."

The party's action program pledged full cooperation with the Soviet Union and other Communist allies but indicated a more independent course in international affairs that might include diplomatic relations with West Germany. It called for Czechoslovakia to take an "independent attitude" toward world problems and to "support the forces of realism" in Germany.

Losses Staggering in Capital Washington Riots Stop Tourism On Normally Busiest Week of Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The usual vast springtime tourist invasion has become a trickle in the heat of racial violence in the nation's capital, leaving the city's leading industry reeling in what should have been its richest week of the year.

The cost is staggering, apparently running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars daily.

One sightseeing firm lists its losses at $8,000 a day. At a 1,000-room hotel, nearly three-fourths of the guests did not keep their reservations. High schools as far away as Sisseton, S.D., have called off class trips to the capital.

In April the waiting line at the Washington Monument is usually an hour long, curling all the way around the base of the spire and stretching down the slope. At one stage Tuesday only 18 persons were in line.

Full Cost Unknown
The full cost cannot be counted easily. Even the Washington Convention and Visitors Bureau was closed Tuesday along with most businesses in respect to assassinated civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"It's hurt us deeply," said Jack E. Brown, executive vice president of The Gray Line, a major sightseeing firm. "This would have been the highest booking week of the year, and we lost it completely."

The annual Cherry Blossom Festival this year came only a week before Easter, when thousands of pupils converge on the city during spring vacation.

But racial violence flared last Thursday night after the slaying of King in Memphis, Tenn., and the city came to a standstill beneath a pall of smoke from scores of burning buildings.

"This is a disaster for the hotel business," said Philip Hollywood, general manager of the 1,000-room Shoreham Hotel. "This is not like other businesses—last night's vacancy is gone forever."

The Shoreham is only one.

Honorary Titles Damage Budget

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico Secretary of State Ernestine Evans, a Democrat, says the number of honorary colonels in the state is damaging her budget.

She says Republican Gov. David Cargo has commissioned 4,600 honorary colonels as aide de camp to the governor since he took office in January 1967. He sent another batch of 250 commissions to her office this week, she says.

"I have already spent $170 for the gold seals for the commissions and $35 for the ribbons for the seal," she said.

King's Followers Pledge To Continue His Crusade

By DON MCKEE Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Police stood watch today at the tomb of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the slain civil rights leader whose funeral brought outpourings of mourners and tributes rarely matched in the nation's history.

Mourners trickled into South View Cemetery for a look at the crypt even after darkness fell Tuesday. Inscribed on the Georgia marble are the words of an old slave song often quoted by King: "Free at Last, Free at Last; Thank God Almighty, I'm Free at Last."

Two uniformed policemen and the grave through much of the night, a police official said, and two plainclothes detectives continued their watch today.

"This was just to prevent any possible vandalism," an Atlanta police spokesman said, adding there had been no hint of attempts to molest the grave.

King, 39, was killed by a sniper in Memphis, Tenn. He had returned for another march of striking garbage workers after an earlier march erupted into rioting.

His followers called for the nation to look at itself anew as they pledged at the final rites to carry out his crusade against racism, poverty and injustice.

"Let us see to it that we do not dishonor his name by trying to solve our problems through rioting in the streets," urged Joseph Silvestri, night supervisor for Airport Transport, list-Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, retired president of Morehouse College, business fell off by 50 per cent while travelers avoided Washington.

None of the major hotels give a precise figure for their losses, but Hollywood said, "It's been a staggering sum."

there be any prejudice in our hearts against any racial or ethnic group, let us exterminate it."

Mays, who taught King in college, said the American people, including Memphis officials, are in part responsible for the assassination. In a similar vein, the biracial Southern Regional Council, a human rights organization, said in a four-column newspaper ad that white America faces "the choice between the kind of society for which Dr. King lived and died, and the kind of society which denies equal opportunity."

Marching had been a big part of King's life. So in death, there was a final march for Martin Luther King. His wreath-shrouded coffin traveled more than four miles over Atlanta streets in a faded green farm wagon drawn by two brown mules—symbolic of the poor whose cause he had taken up.

Thousands marched with King the last time.

Ahead of the old wagon, behind it, beside it, in wide and uneven columns, numbering upwards of 50,000, they marched with the man who was called by most of the black mourners simply "our leader."

At the Morehouse rites following the march from Ebenezer Baptist Church, attendance was estimated at 150,000 by police. Red Cross workers cared for several hundred persons stricken by heat exhaustion in 80-degree weather.

The prominent names at a memorial service in Ebenezer, where King was co-pastor with his father, included Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, representing President Johnson. The vice president got up to move to the front pew where King's widow sat with her four children and there he offered condolences to her.

Other notables at the service included Mrs. John F. Kennedy who like Mrs. King was wounded by an assassin's bullet. Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, New York and Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts; Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota; former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, and former Gov. Carl E. Sanders of Georgia.

Gov. Lester Maddox, who disagreed with King's tactics and closed a restaurant rather than integrate it before taking office, did not attend nor did he send a representative. Maddox closed the Capitol early, at 2 p.m., for what he called security reasons as 160 state troopers stood by it side the building.

"Earth to earth, ashes to ashes and dust to dust," came the familiar ritual as the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, King's close associate and now his successor, performed the final symbolic rite of interment. Abernathy succeeds King as president of Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

"We give thanks to God who gave us a peaceful warrior who was willing to die but not willing to kill," said Abernathy, disciple of the nonviolence he and King had practiced since 1955 in the bus boycott of Montgomery, Ala., to start a crusade that produced national laws—the 1964 Civil Rights Act and the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

Mrs. King, 41, dry-eyed through the ritual, wept silently when the coffin was entombed. King's gray-haired father placed his head on the marble crypt and wept.

Debt Retirement Fund Has First $1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government's special gift fund to help reduce the national debt has collected its first $1 million from the citizenry after almost seven years of operation.

But it hardly kept pace with the ever-swelling debt—now about $61 billion larger than it was when the special fund was set up by law on June 27, 1961.

Treasury officials said Tuesday they had collected $1,021,500.65 in gifts for debt retirement through the end of last month.

Obviously the fund isn't designed to wipe out the entire debt which is now more than $350 billion. It's simply a handy place to account for gifts received by the Treasury for debt retirement.

Gifts have ranged from less than $1 to many thousands of dollars and include the contributions of one man who sends a check each year equal to his age—71 this year.

Most of the fund's income can be traced to the will of Susan Vaughan Clayton of Houston, from a trust fund to help retire the debt. It has meant hundreds of thousands of dollars for the government.

Donors Anonymous
Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., who sponsored the bill to set up the special fund, contributed the first $1,000. All other donors remain anonymous at Treasury insistence.

A school class studying American government once contributed $1.97. One man contributed 27 Series E savings bonds worth $1,350.

The fund has regular contributors in addition to the one-shot gifts sent in a wave of patriotism or disgust with the rapid increase of the debt itself.

In the last two years, one man sent more than $2,600 in four separate gifts.

A lady sent $1 and suggested each American contribute $1 a month to get the country out of the red. The Treasury rejected the idea, explaining it doesn't solicit gifts for the debt fund.

In sending a check for $71 earlier this year, the man who contributes according to his age wrote: "I follow this custom to remind myself of the great debt I owe my country for the privilege of being a part of it."

Why Is $50 Million Poverty Program Helping So Few?

Only Small Portion of Detroit Poor Benefit; Probe Underway

By DICK BARNES AND GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writers
DETROIT (AP) — City, state and federal investigators are busily searching the record of Detroit's antipoverty agency today, trying to find out why $50 million in federal funds has helped only a fraction of the city's poor.

By the antipoverty agency's own admission, only 53,283 persons were participating in its programs at the end of last year. The figures, contained in an unpublished quarterly report, represent barely 15 per cent of the 349,718 poor people in the agency's target areas.

Last month, in its report on the riot that killed 43 persons here last summer, the President's Commission on Civil Disorders raised questions about the city agency's performance.

The commission said that $19.6 million in federal funds spent during the first nine months of 1967 provided job opportunities for less than half the city's unemployed. It also said that community action programs costing $12.6 million reached only 30 per cent of the poor.

Job Opportunities

Drawing comparisons between Detroit and two other cities that had racial disorders, the riot commission said Newark, N.J., provided job opportunities for less than 20 per cent with $2.6 million, and New Haven, Conn., less than 30 per cent with $2.1 million. In community action programs, the commission said, Newark reached 44 per cent of the poor with $1.9 million and New Haven reached 42 per cent with $2.3 million.

Since the commission's report, investigators for a Michigan legislative committee, the General Accounting Office of Congress, and the city auditor's office have been examining operations of the antipoverty agency—Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh's Committee for Human Resources Development.

Among the things they are looking at:

—The agency headquarters is in a 40-year-old building it leased from one of Cavanagh's former business associates. In two years the annual rent has nearly equalled the building's $180,000 purchase price.

—Antipoverty officials bought $80,000 worth of dental equipment in mid-1966. Through December 1967, exactly four patients had been treated.

—'Accidental Overlaps' —Job programs have piled atop one another, creating, in the words of an antipoverty official, "some accidental overlaps."

—The city's antipoverty program has been late or irregular in paying its bills.

—On-the-job training funds sometimes have gone to employers for training workers who already had dropped out of the program.

—$150,000 has been spent developing performance measurement techniques with more to follow. Yet officials couldn't provide some routine statistics required for their last quarterly report to the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Only New York and Chicago have received more antipoverty funds than Detroit, the nation's fifth largest city. Antipoverty money allocated to Detroit is channeled through a single agency—the Mayor's Committee for Human Resources Development. In all other major cities, except Chicago, the funds go to private, non-profit community action programs.

Mayor Uncooperative
Efforts to discuss the antipoverty program with Mayor Cavanagh failed. He canceled two appointments with reporters, and did not return a telephone call.

But Richard Simmons Jr., third director of the Detroit operation in its three years, defended the program. "I don't just think we are, I know we're getting to the people," he said in an interview.

Other agencies aren't so sure: —The Detroit city auditor, after spending 15 months examining 1966 antipoverty books, will issue a report this month. A city official who refused to permit use of his name said the report will show that bookkeeping hasn't improved since the auditor's last report, which criticized 1965 operations.

—The General Accounting Office is beginning another audit of the Detroit program even before reporting on a 10-month check made last year.

—A Michigan House of Representatives committee is expected to release soon a report criticizing everything from travel expenses to the property leases negotiated by the program.

Investigating Officer
Heading the state investigation is Rep. James Del Rio, a Detroit Democrat but a political foe of Cavanagh, who also is a Democrat. Del Rio said he is particularly interested in the city's leasing of its antipoverty headquarters.

An Associated Press check of documents in Detroit, the state capital at Lansing, Washington, D.C., and Tucson, Ariz., produced this background on the lease:

The building at 903 W. Grand Blvd., about four miles from downtown Detroit, is held in the name of Detroit Convalescent Home Inc., a firm owned by James P. Hannan, a former state senator.

Detroit Convalescent Home was incorporated May 6, 1958, with Hannan as president and Cavanagh as secretary, registered agent and one of three directors.

Cavanagh was replaced as resident agent after he took office as mayor in 1962, according to a document dated May 1, 1962, and filed with the state Dec. 7 of that year. The firm's 1962 annual report showed he also had been replaced as secretary and a director.

Cavanaugh Partner
The present resident agent and secretary is Oliver C. Nelson of Detroit, a former law partner of Cavanagh.

According to documents turned over to federal auditors, Hannan and Dr. Howard Bargo signed an agreement with Socony Mobil Oil Co. in February 1965 to buy the Grand Boulevard building—then Mobil's regional headquarters—for $180,000.

On Dec. 21, 1965, the city agreed to lease the building from Hannan and Bargo for $5,875 a month—or $70,500 a year. The city also leased equipment in the building for $333 a month, a figure raised six months later to $500. The building lease was signed Feb. 1, 1966, and has been renewed periodically.

Hannan and Bargo became the building's owners of record on March 23, 1966, according to a deed filed April 7, 1966. The antipoverty agency moved in during April.

Bargo said in an interview he did not know the details of events that led to the lease. A Mobile spokesman said the firm could not discuss the matter.

Bargo deeded his portion of the building ownership to Hannan on Aug. 20, 1966. Hannan then deeded the property to Detroit Convalescent Home on Feb. 1, 1967.

Hannan, meanwhile, moved to Arizona where in March 1967 he filed for reorganization of his financial affairs under the federal Bankruptcy Act. Antipoverty headquarters rent checks currently go to the receiver.

In discussing the lease, Simmons said OEO regulations prohibit antipoverty agencies from purchasing buildings. But, he added, "You bet we'd have been better off with any building we've got if we could have bought it."

The program leases 26 buildings in Detroit at a cost of $254,739 annually. The headquarters lease is the largest.

Another type of lease used in the Detroit program posed this question: Why did officials contract for full-sized automobiles at $100 a month each at the same time other city agencies were buying compact cars for less than $1,500 apiece?

Simmons said regulations did not permit the agency to buy cars. Questions also arise in other areas.

Antipoverty officials operate an alphabet soup mixture of employment programs called AYE, NYC, OJT, and STEPS that has led to duplication of efforts in recruiting and job placement.

Donald Healus, director of manpower, said in an interview: "By pieces of legislation, even different offices in the Labor Department, these things grew topsy turvy. . . . There were, as you said, some accidental overlaps."

A city auditing official said sloppy job reporting has resulted in the city paying some employers for training workers even after the trainees had dropped out. "We can't even tell when they quit so we can figure how much the employer should have been paid," he said.

There also are complaints that the agency hasn't paid its bills on time.

Head Start Payments

Mrs. Mattie Brown, director of the Peter Pan Nursery which has a $40,000 contract to operate a full-day Head Start program for 40 children, said she receives her payments from the city "after the overdrafts are created."

"The money due on Jan. 31, I got March 23," she said. "The money due Dec. 31 came March 5. We can't find out where the delay is. Sometimes I don't get an answer. I call headquarters and leave word and don't get a reply. We are not alone in this."

There have been times, however, when the antipoverty program found itself with a surplus of money, but at least once this too created problems. In mid-1966, for example, the program discovered a medical budget surplus and used $80,000 to purchase 12 dental chairs and accessories for a planned dental program. Then, said Simmons, a budget pinch developed and the equipment sat in storage for more than a year before three chairs finally went into operation. The dental report for calendar 1967 listed four patients treated.

"We're still trying to develop a very sophisticated style of proving the merits of the program," Simmons said. "But it's a very difficult thing because how do you measure attributes? To attempt to know what moves a certain family on to a certain point—to take in all the variables impinging from the outside as well as what you program from the inside—is very difficult."

To develop such a program, the city antipoverty agency has spent $150,000 with an accounting firm and is negotiating an additional $100,000 contract.

But in a Feb. 1 report to OEO for the three months ending last Dec. 31, the agency said it couldn't provide a required breakdown by sex of nearly 9,000 program participants and that "data on full time or part time personnel (is) not available for all components."

When the city of Detroit audited antipoverty books for 1965, it reported finding such shortcomings as improper or incomplete reporting of city matching contributions, money paid from wrong funds, poor inventory records and some missing equipment. An official familiar with the pending audit report for 1966 was asked whether the deficiencies had been remedied. "Well, no," he said.

Del Rio's legislative committee employed a private investigating firm, the John T. Lynch Agency, to audit travel spending by the antipoverty agency.

A Lynch agency report claims that former antipoverty director Philip J. Rutledge traveled at program expense 133 days during his two-year, nine-month tenure, visiting such cities as San Francisco, Las Vegas, Phoenix and Honolulu.

Rutledge couldn't be reached for comment, but Simmons said Del Rio's investigation "is like a guy walking down the street with some hatchets in his hand. He throws a hatchet over here and he doesn't care where it lands."

Some leaders of the poor have criticized the city for not consulting them enough on program development.

Simmons said one new program hired a dozen poor persons as consultants at $4 an hour and it "turned out to be one of the most dynamic things we've done" in improving communications.

But, he said, hiring the poor for some other antipoverty jobs, such as community aides, had created a problem. Said Simmons:

"Some aides look upon the program as a longtime career project for themselves."

First Vietnam Bomb Still Echoing in U.S.

By WILLARD H. MOBLEY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The boom of the first American bomb on North Vietnam in August 1964 signaled the mushrooming troubles at home and abroad that finally drove Lyndon B. Johnson out of the political arena.

One way or another the divisions within the nation, which the President gave as the reason for his decision not to run again, represent swelling reverberations from that blast.

The list is nearly endless—accusations of fraud following the administration's stated reasons for the first bombing, complaints of a credibility gap in administration reports of war progress and prospects, immorality charges over U.S. participation in the war, trouble in the streets and protests that war money should be used instead to solve problems at home.

Reported Attack

The first bombs fell on Communist shore installations in retaliation for a reported attack by North Vietnamese torpedo boats on American destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The national split showed up—just a small crack initially—in the first event that followed. That was Senate adoption of the Tonkin Resolution to back the President in "all necessary measures" to resist attack and deter aggression.

Only Sens. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, opposed that measure. They argued the United States had no right to make war in Vietnam and had no national interest to serve there.

That and similar points of view have been gaining backers ever since.

But the Johnson administration has cited the Tonkin Resolution as its commission for whatever measures it felt necessary to meet the stated goal of deterrence for the Communists.

And the ballooning of the war effort on that basis has been matched, almost step by step, by the rising din of protest.

Leadership in that movement has been taken over by Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He shepherded the resolution through to adoption in 1964 but now contends it was never intended for the uses to which it was put.

Chinese Refugees Tell of Fierce Provincial Fights

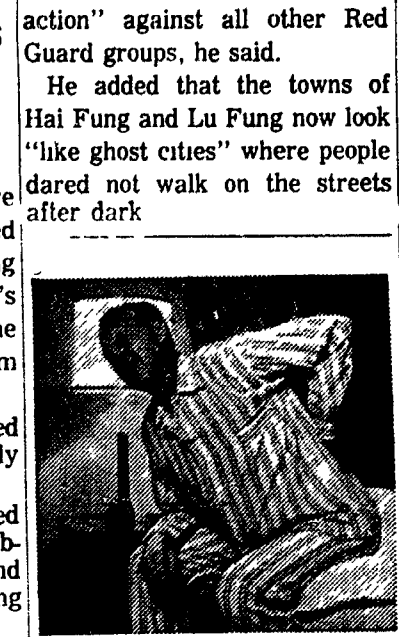

HONG KONG (AP) — More than 10,000 persons have fled from the counties of Hai Fung and Lu Fung in Red China's Kwangtung Province, in the past six months, arrivals from Canton reported Monday.

The travelers said rival Red Guard gangs clash almost daily in these two counties.

"Most of these escapees fled to Canton, where some semblances of order existed and some of them fled to Hong Kong by boats," one arrival said.

Another said the most militant Red Guard group came from Hunan, the home province of Chairman Mao Tse-tung. The group advocated "retaliatory action" against all other Red Guard groups, he said.

He added that the towns of Hai Fung and Lu Fung now look "like ghost cities" where people dared not walk on the streets after dark.

Is Joint City-County Safety Building Feasible?

Appleton's glaring need for a convention center or civic auditorium was given added impetus last week when Ald. Mark Catlin (7th) introduced a resolution in the City Council calling for a special committee to study the feasibility of such a municipal facility.

The city's Comprehensive Plan, prepared two years ago by Harland Bartholomew and Associates of St. Louis, makes it clear that when Appleton is willing and able to erect an auditorium it should be located in a Civic Center complex earmarked for Jones Park.

Hopefully, Appleton's bonded debt pace is expected to level off by 1970 and the city should be in a favorable financial position to give serious thought to the start of a Civic Center complex. However, it might be wise for both the city and Outagamie County to start thinking in terms of joint construction of some nature. The first project which seems to hold merit might well be a city-county safety building to quarter law enforcement agencies and administrative offices of the two governmental units.

The day may not be too far off when Appleton will need a new city hall and police station. Outagamie County officials are already talking about a new jail and other facilities.

Now is the logical time for city and county officials to sit down and attempt to arrive at some common ground for planning the construction of consolidated facilities — keeping in mind that the structures could form the nucleus for a long talked about Civic Center.

Flexibility in Our Military Position

The behind-the-scenes talks going on between people representing the United States and North Vietnam can be expected to move slowly since there is certainly an understandable lack of trust on both sides. But meanwhile the American military position has become more flexible.

In his short speech from the White House Sunday, General William Westmoreland said that "militarily we have never been in better relative position in Vietnam." The general in the past has proved to be unduly optimistic and we continue to have doubts about his glowing praise of the South Vietnamese military and political situation. Nevertheless, it does appear that the strength of the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong has been slowed down for one reason or another.

The army drive to end the siege of Khe Sanh indicates that North Vietnamese forces may have withdrawn into Laos or Cambodia and that the Viet Cong are also lying low at least for the time being. But the lifting of the siege is important for two big reasons. First, it ends the danger of the outpost being overrun with high American casualties or at least the continued heavy bombardment of the base. Secondly, it means that the United States can now afford to concentrate its bombing efforts on North Vietnam to political and military objectives. While Khe Sanh was so dangerously threatened, military leaders rightly argued that slowing down the bombing could well mean heavy loss of American lives. With Khe Sanh relieved, the bombing pattern becomes more flexible as has already been shown in the heavy raids near the DMZ and the extension of the no-bombing area down to the 19th parallel.

The shifting of Army units to Khe Sanh puts more reliance upon South Vietnamese troops further south and this may be dangerous. But it also is putting into action the small change in American policy which stresses more responsibility for their war for the South Vietnamese government and military forces.

It is too soon to tell whether the slight slowing down of the war by the enemy is because they have been badly hurt or because they are also leaning toward peace and the latter may be the result of the first. But as of now, the United States is in a good military position to talk peace.

Appalling Aspects of Violence

Perhaps the most appalling aspect of the continued violence in the cities is that the major participants are children.

There seems to be a festive air in the disturbed areas as the youngsters wantonly toss Molotov cocktails, try on stolen clothes before they decide what to bring home, and happily haul away television sets, furniture and toys. This is obviously no retaliation for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King. It is anarchy when adults are involved and plain childish capriciousness when the teen-age and sub-teen youngsters are doing the damage. It certainly indicates the extent to which law and order and respect for any form of authority have broken down in part of the Negro community.

There have been examples of a similar breakdown in the white community. The teen-agers in Milwaukee and other cities who hamper the peaceful protest marches, who catcall and spit and toss bottles are as much representatives of a denial of the spirit of America as are the Negroes today. But while emotional justification for both sides can be found in the years of bias and discrimination and irrational fear, there is no real justification.

As Negro leaders like Whitney Young and Roy Wilkins have emphasized, the violence is no tribute to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King. It is in fact a complete reversal of his policies of non-violence and personal responsibility not to cooperate with evil. But the children looting the stores do not even seem to be remotely aware of what they are doing. To them the rioting appears to be just a spring rite. And the extent to which our educators and religious leaders and especially our homes have failed is all too clear.

If we can get out of the Vietnam war with honor so that the $30 billion spent there annually can be turned to the plight of the cities, and what clearly must be drastic steps to change things, there is a chance that disintegration of the family will not become a hallmark of this part of our century. But the looting children are pretty good proof that those who have decried the lack of paternal authority in the Negro family as a major cause of the Negro's problems knew what they were talking about.

Anti-Fenian Irishman Shot

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for April 11, 1868.

Thomas D'Arcy McGee, the eloquent anti-Fenian Irishman, was shot dead at 2 a.m. on the 7 inst., as he was entering his boarding-place from the Parliament House in Ottawa, Canada, by some unknown assassin.

Two hours before, he had concluded the most eloquent speech of his life on the Nova Scotia question.

A reward of $14,000 in gold has been offered for the arrest of the murderer.

The assassination created universal excitement and dismay in Canada. If it is true, as alleged, that the murder was planned by any Fenian organization, the movement will suffer in the estimation of civilization, because such murders are wholly unjustifiable.

McGee probably was the most eloquent Irishman of the present age.

Outagamie County elected its youngest judge in its history the previous day, Gerald P. Jolin, 29, Hortonville. Oscar J. Schmiede was to leave his post as district attorney to succeed Thomas H. Ryan as municipal judge. Ryan held the office since it was created in 1907.

Martin Williams was re-elected president of Combined Locks Village on the flip of a coin. Both he and opponent John Scherer received 101 votes. Other village officers elected without opposition were Lucy Schuler, clerk; Herman Jansen, justice of the peace; Theodore Van Cuyk, assessor, and Willard Hartjes, constable.

Dr. Jack E. Benton and Carl E. Schaefer were named members of the Appleton Board of Education. Others on the board but not candidates for re-election were Mrs. Margaret E. St. Clair and John Wood.

21-Year Beer Law

Poses Many Problems

Editor, Post-Crescent:

As an Appleton citizen and a teenager I feel I am able to express the views of some teenagers better than adults since these kids are my peers.

Not too long ago an Appleton woman stated that a referendum should be placed on the April 2nd election ballot to raise the drinking age to 21. She, however, did not stop to look at things the way teenagers looked at this one step.

Most everyone knows that teenagers not yet of age still have beer parties and such. If we the citizens of Wisconsin raised the age to 21, it would only increase the number of teenagers drinking illegally. Another thing is that if raised to 21, teenagers would not stop at beer. They would find a way to get the "hard stuff" (liquor).

Most adults classify the teenagers in the same group. We are either hippies, squares, greasers, hoods, climbers, delinquents and such. Adults don't realize that this is the minority of teenagers. Teenagers on the whole are good kids willing to help when needed and asked.

We admit that there are some in every group that spoil it for others.

What Can All Americans Do Now That Martin Luther King Is Dead?

Editor, Post-Crescent:

An open letter to the people of Appleton:

Martin Luther King is dead. He was shot to death in the United States of America, in our United States of America, while we in Appleton sat in shocked silence watching a live television report of the occurrence. We sat and watched the death of a man who died defending a belief which all, except the radical few among us, profess to believe in. The belief he died for is the cornerstone upon which our country was founded. We all know the words of this belief but they are words which at this time bear repeating. "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

That Martin Luther King had to die for this belief is tragedy enough, but an even greater tragedy lies in the fact that we, the people of Appleton, as well as many other people like us, in our clean white communities snugly insulated from the harsher realities of this grave social upheaval, have allowed a man like him to die for our beliefs: those "self-evident" beliefs we mouth so easily.

For isn't that what we have done? Haven't we, by our adults. Some kids drink for the fun of it, others because they want to, but most teenagers don't drink at all.

Adults get loud, and drunk, so do teenagers. It is split. We are not asking for you to give us everything, just to leave us with our peers.

To open up the 21 yr. old bars, and close the 18 yr. bars and let both groups mix will cause confusion for the bartenders. To check ID's with every order would be a pain. Leave us to our peers and things will be all right. We made it this far, we will make it further.

We just want to prove ourselves in our own way. If our parents didn't trust us why would they let us out?

Appleton voters, leave the age at 18, otherwise there will be more trouble for our police department.

Kathy Kramer, 913 North Harriman Appleton inaction and our non-involvement, been guilty of sacrificing not only Dr. King but also countless other American citizens whose only sin has been trying to insure human rights for all citizens of this country? Doesn't it all boil down to this: we believe in the same theory but because we fear to become personally involved in the issues we are in effect condoning the murders of these innocent people?

How many times have we hidden this fear of personal involvement behind a cloak of indifference, all the while saving our consciences by saying that an individual can do nothing to change society? Dr. King was an individual. We can't hope to emulate the actions of this man but should that be a justification for us to do nothing?

Dr. King tried to lead our democratic society toward a total acceptance of this belief and he tried to achieve his goal through non-violent means. We, as individuals, answered his call by standing off and offering him in return, non-involvement. Is it any wonder that he was unable to fully accomplish what he set out to do in the way he intended to do it?

Citizens of Appleton, just how much more is it going to take to convince us that we must get off our proud conservative haunches and become actively involved in this world, a world that by our very indifference we helped to mold and that we now must assume responsibility for? When are we going to realize that it is up to each and every one of us to help change the image of this world so that the gap between our beliefs and our actions will not be at such a variance? When are we going to see the necessity "to expand the borders of our lives" to include more than "dangling conversation and superficial sighs?" (Any involved teenager will be happy to translate those phrases for you.)

Is there really any choice left open to us? We must begin to act and we must begin to act now. Perhaps, we can begin by writing a personal note of condolence to Mrs. King to let her know that we in Appleton do care what happens in Memphis. Perhaps, we can begin by joining our more idealistic but infinitely more far-sighted Human Right's Council members by giving them belated physical, financial and moral support for our joint cause. Or we can begin by writing letters, and urging our friends to write letters to our representatives on all levels of government, giving them the support they need to pass urgently needed civil right's legislation. The important thing is that we begin somewhere. Let's not further compound the tragedy of Martin Luther King's death by waiting one day longer for an opportunity to come up so that we can act with conviction on these truths we profess to believe in. It is up to us as individuals to create that opportunity and to become the personally involved citizens we all know we are capable of becoming.

Choosing Democratic Convention Delegates Has Many Undertones

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The next important business of Wisconsin Democrats in executing the will of the Democratic presidential primary voters is the selection of the men and women who will cast the Wisconsin votes at the nominating convention in Chicago in late August.

In arithmetic, the situation appears simple enough.

Wyngaard

Sen. Eugene McCarthy has 49 votes committed to him in the law which governs the primary election. The votes of the national committeeman and national committeewoman of the party are uncommitted, by law. There will be eight delegates representing the two congressional districts in Milwaukee County, ostensibly pledged to the renomination of President Johnson, who electrified the country a little more than a week ago with his unexpected and historic declaration that he won't accept renomination.

Under the new law, the party organizations will choose the delegates, subject to a veto of the presidential candidate whose colors they are supposed to wear.

The state-at-large delegates will be chosen, all of them for McCarthy, at the state organization meeting scheduled for May 26. The district delegates will be selected at a series of caucuses starting about a week before that time.

THE POLITICKING

It is not hard to guess that there will be more arm-twisting, and wheeling and dealing and maneuvering among the party politicians before that time than the party has seen in a long time.

The McCarthy managers, for example, are perfectly aware that the Kennedy organization feels that much of the McCarthy vote was actually pro-Kennedy. Patrick J. Lucy, the No. 1 state lieutenant of the "Irish Mafia," as it is sometimes and affectionately called, has already said as much.

There will be strenuous efforts among those Kennedy forces to arrange the selection of such McCarthy delegates as might turn to Kennedy at the convention when it turns out, as the Kennedy chiefs are confident it will, that McCarthy cannot win the nomination.

It is even reasonable to speculate that Vice President Hubert Humphrey, if he becomes a candidate, can expect some second choice backing from the McCarthy delegate slate, based on his close association with leading Democrats over the years, his strong backing in organized labor, his yeoman services for the Wisconsin party in its struggling years, his 1960 presidential primary vote here, and other factors.

Under Wisconsin law the McCarthy delegates will be strictly bound to back their man until he gets less than one-third of the convention roll call vote or until he withdraws and releases them. But the McCarthy men are aware of the Kennedy designs, and they are likely to pledge their delegates even beyond the literal and tough requirements of the statutes. There is likely to be a "blood test," as one informed party man puts it.

THE LBJ EIGHT

What about the eight delegates who will be bound to Mr. Johnson, it will be asked? Will he simply ignore them as an irrelevant detail in the life of a President who is engaged in his mightier affairs? Will he advise them to support another candidate? Or will he release them to follow their own desires at Chicago?

Nobody can forecast the result now, but the possibilities are intriguing.

If the Milwaukee eight become free agents, in a manner of speaking, the chances are that they will be split between Kennedy and Humphrey.

If the President decides to advise them of his wishes, he could be expected to favor his loyal vice president over his enemies McCarthy and Kennedy, especially in view of the preferences of organized labor. And in some minds there persists the belief that if there should be a favorable turn of events in Vietnam, the Milwaukee eight might be in a position to vote for the man to whom they are technically bound and the President might become a candidate for another nomination after all.

Strictly Personal

Group Gives People Emotional License

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In his recent book, "A Very Strange Society," Allen Drury examines the government, people and problems in South Africa today, with a fairness that bends over backwards.

Yet, when he comes to discuss the totalitarian methods of repression used to enforce apartheid in that country, he cannot refrain from crying out: "The individual Afrikaner is not a cruel person: what evil genius forces him to be so cruel as a government?"

Harris

But the same might be said of any people, anywhere, at any time in history. The Germans were not a cruel people, but they passively acquiesced (at least) in the devilry of the Nazi government. The Russians are not a cruel people, but they merely turned their eyes away from Stalin's long reign of butchery and barbarism.

It is not merely when mob hysteria seizes them that people act worse in groups than they do individually. All "causes," all creeds, all ideologies, make people behave far worse than they would individually. The most horrible savagery has not been committed for personal, selfish motives, but for church and state and flag, for "loyalty" and "group solidarity" and "common cause."

Of course, most Afrikaners are decent people. Most Mississippians are kindly folk. Most Germans are industrious, law-abiding, warmly sentimental. Most Russians are friendly and out-going. And the U.S. troops bombing villages and burning peasants in Vietnam include some of the finest, sweetest boys you would ever hope to meet.

All this is beside the point. The point is that we feel desperately alone and insecure as individuals: we require a sense of belonging to some unit larger than ourselves. This unit can be national, racial, religious, ideological, or socio-economic, as in slum gangs. And then we transfer our reason, our will, and our passions to this larger unit.

What the gang does, no individual boy would do alone. What the South African government does, hardly a single Afrikaner would do. In the bitter centuries-long religious wars between Protestants and Catholics, it was the thought of "pleasing God," not any petty personal advantages, that prompted millions to mutual extermination — most of them people who "wouldn't hurt a fly."

It is not so much our human "selfishness" that is responsible for the great injustices and tyrannies of the world as it is our need to identify, to transcend ourselves, to form part of a solid group. The group insignia gives us emotional license to destroy others.

Easter Proclaims Victory Over Death

EDITORS NOTE — Easter, even more than Christmas, is the high point of the Christian year. Easter is the gospel — a word which means good news — the good news that out of death could come life and triumph. Subject of this third of five articles about the Judeo-Christian festivals of spring is Easter.

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Only those who knew the atom could advance the astounding paradox of nuclear energy — that the tiniest particle yielded the greatest power. And only those who knew Jesus could affirm the shocking paradox of Christianity — that dying yielded life.

It's incongruous. But it's the Easter insight, the special Sunday song.

"Christ is risen," the ministers proclaim. And it reverberates from the congregations. "He is risen indeed!"

A wild thing to think, and it didn't come easy. Yet in a world that proliferates the incredible, which knows that silence teems with sound, that voids swarm with images, that up is also down, that light floods through darkest space, the contradiction becomes the commonplace.

Dairy Plant Security Poses Puzzlers for Joint Committee

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Dairy plant security regulations of the state should be tightened, members of a joint legislative committee on agriculture agreed here Monday, but the task may be more difficult and challenging than was thought when it was assigned by the 1967 Legislature.

For 30 years, state law has required the State Department of Agriculture to audit dairy processing plants and other buyers of milk to provide "reasonable assurance" against default of payments owed to their farm producers in the event of business failure or a suspension of operations for any other reasons.

Lately the department has expressed a desire for a more explicit legislative definition of "reasonable assurance", which led to the creation of the study committee working during the legislative interim under the chairmanship of Assemblyman Norbert Nettleman of LaCrosse, himself a farmer.

Public Hearings

The Nettleman committee indicated that it will probably hold public hearings in some of the areas of the state where there have been dairy plant failures, and losses to producers, with resulting discontent among farmers.

Mildred Zimmerman Will Discuss Aged Programs at Seminars

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Mildred A. Zimmerman, Wisconsin's highest ranking official on problems and programs of older Americans is scheduled to appear at the two senior citizen seminars called by Sixth District Rep. William A. Steiger.

Mrs. Zimmerman is the acting executive director of the Division on Aging of the Wisconsin Department of Health and Social Services. She will join U.S. Commissioner on Aging William D. Bechill in discussing programs for the elderly and retired.

The meetings will be held in Oshkosh City Hall from 2 to 5 p.m. on April 15 and in Sheboygan at the Security First National Bank from 9 a.m. to noon on April 16. Steiger pointed out that "this will give senior citizens in the Sixth District an opportunity to discuss programs aimed at helping them with recognized experts in their field."

Widening Drew Street to Northland Avenue Proposed

The proposed widening of Drew Street — opposed by some residents because trees will have to be removed — received support today.

"The Drew Street project could have major influence on correcting some of our worst traffic problems," Carl L. Roehl, an Appleton businessman who resides at 1615 N. Nicholas St., wrote the city council.

He reminded that N. Drew Street was designated a primary street 15 years ago, adding it would represent an ideal north-south thoroughway which the city has needed for years.

Roehl said the street widening also will indirectly tie in with the proposed high-level bridge over S. Oneida Street.

healing, challenging wrongs, doing good. About 30 A.D., He was crucified.

But "the third day," according to church creed and Scriptures, "He rose again."

"Good News"

That is the "good news" of Christianity, the Easter shout, the strange, world-shaking prodigy announced by the ringing bells, the banked lilies, the bright vestments, the hallelu-hahs of the choirs.

"I am the Resurrection, and the life," He said. "He that believeth in Me, though he were dead yet shall he live."

What does it mean? How could it be? The answers came hard.

Yet just as physicists, traveling a dim, unmarked road, uncovered the staggering force at the heart of nature, so the overwhelming dynamics of Jesus dawned only on those who had walked closely with Him, through baffling difficulties.

But then the disclosure, like a flaming, new star, radiated around the earth. "The Light of the world."

His apostles hadn't anticipated it. They didn't believe it when women brought them the first report of the empty tomb. Scripture relates. "An idle tale," they assumed. They were earthy realists, in no autosuggestive mood for delusions.

In fact, it seemed to them the whole venture had failed miserably. Jesus, instead of mounting a throne, had been executed as a criminal, and they had fled in fear and defeat, their high Present plans call for widening the street from College Avenue to Franklin.

Major Street

"If Drew Street is to be widened," Roehl said, consideration should be given to possibly extending it to Northland Avenue (County Trunk OO) on the north and making it a major north-south street.

"We all hate to see trees cut down," Roehl continued, "but the removal of trees on Badger Avenue and Richmond Street was necessary to provide for the increased amount of traffic and the same is true of Drew Street."

He predicted a large increase in Appleton's traffic volume and claimed adoption of the Drew Street widening plan at this time "will mean a saving of tax dollars in the future."

hopes plunged into utter despair.

But then, as they huddled behind locked doors, He stood before them. "Peace be with you." They still boggled at it. "Why are you troubled, and why do questionings arise in your hearts? . . . It is I Myself."

Strange, unexplainable — "a stumblingblock" and "a folly" to ordinary logic, St. Paul wrote. And the church has always conceded that its central conviction defies empirical reasoning, turns apparent patterns upside down.

Moreover, the recognition of it came only slowly and painfully, not to the general public, but to believers who had been influenced by Jesus, to those who had listened, questioned and wondered at his identity, who had noted the signposts on the way.

Out of that forged relationship, they gradually recognized — even though it flew in the face of their attitude and expectations — that he still lived.

Their testimony of it — in gospels and epistles — is dramatically persuasive. It changed them overnight from broken, cowering men to fearless, aggressive evangelists, so absolutely sure of their contention that they were ready to die for it. Most of them did.

As Scripture portrays it, and as the church interprets it, the Resurrection was no mere physical reanimation of a corpse, in the framework of general observation, but a manifestation to chosen witnesses at God's initiative.

Nor is it considered simply a past external event, but rather a continuing reality, and also a glimmering of the future, an "already" in basis but a "not yet" in full application, a divine deed beyond history injected into present history.

New Age

It is seen as the herald of a new age to come, the promise of a fuller tomorrow, the opening of a fresh, beckoning frontier. "Behold, I make all things new."

The celebration of it, in its adaptation to many cultures, has accumulated various extrareligious symbols appropriate to its meaning, and derived from other spring festivities — such as the egg from whose shell springs new life.

The name of the holiday itself comes from a mythical Teutonic goddess of spring, "Eostre," whose ancient Anglo-Saxon rites coincided with the celebration of Christ's Resurrection.

It is the arch-phenomenon, needing symbols to tell it, breaking the limits of analysis and comparisons. But to Christians, it is decisively real, the core of faith, a revolutionary beacon in human destiny.

"The light shines in the darkness," John's gospel says, "and the darkness has not overcome it."

It happened on a Sunday dawn, following the Saturday sabbath of the Passover season celebrating God's deliverance of Israel from slavery and abuse. Amplifying that older sign, the Resurrection declared divine deliverance from sin and its epitome, death.

In church teaching, Jesus is considered wholly man, yet also divine, the human manifestation of God, Who suffered on the cross for men's sin, taking the penalty for it as their stand-in, thus offering them redemption from it.

But the Resurrection says something more. It says that in the crucial, illuminating test between utter right and utter wrong, right has the final upperhand, that goodness ultimately wins over evil, that life triumphs over death.

But this is no invitation to escapism from hard reality. On the contrary, Christianity's chief symbol is a rack of torture — the cross. It says that life is rugged and treacherous and at its very best, involves crucifixions. But it also says this no reason to bog down in defeatism.

It says that through the suffering and in the direst hurts and tragedies and even by the injuries, that justice wins at last. It affirms life as infinitely meaningful, with all its griefs and dying, and faces it with zestful heart.

Rather than suggesting a flight into some wishful "otherworldly" retreat, Christianity views the Resurrection as the only complete confirmation of the value of history, the only absolute evidence ever provided that despite the injustice and the injuries, that justice wins at last.

This is the bedrock of the Christian confidence that the good fight is worth it, the Easter assurance that despite the reverses, the destruction and the ambiguities, that goodness succeeds in the end, that life prevails, that evil in the long run is done for, that "death is swallowed up in victory."

What can you depend on?

How often have you heard someone say, "There's nothing you can really depend on these days?"

So often life itself seems unreliable. But there is something you can depend on. There is a God you can trust. Christian Scientists the world over are finding this out. They're proving for themselves that God is "an ever present help in time of trouble."

If you would like to learn about a God you can depend on, hear this lecture by Glenn L. Morning, C.S.B. Bring family and friends . . . the lecture is free.

Polish Communists Choose President

Student Unrest Thought Cause Of Resignation of Predecessor

BY MARTIN ZUCKER Associated Press Writer

WARSAW (AP) — Poland's Communist Party chose Defense Minister Marian Spychalski, 61, today to serve in the ceremonial office of president, PAP news agency reported. His election by Parliament is virtually assured. Spychalski, considered a staunch supporter of Communist Party chief Wladyslaw Gomułka, will succeed Edward Ochab who resigned Monday pleading "deteriorating health."

Changes in the Cabinet also were in prospect as the purge of government and Communist Party ranks continued in the wake of student unrest. Although Ochab, who is nearly blind, cited health in asking to be relieved as president, a Yugoslav report said his name had been linked recently with the student unrest which erupted in antigovernment rioting last month.

Nationalist Faction

The report, by the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug, said the officials to be replaced are members of the faction which spent the war in the Soviet Union. It indicated they were loyal to the ultranationalist faction of World War II Communist underground fighters led by Maj. Gen. Mieczyslaw Moczar, the minister of interior and head of the secret police.

they will control the Minnesota state convention, which will choose 20 at-large delegates of the state's 52-vote delegation. McCarthy is assured of support among district-elected delegates.

Humphrey has a pledge of active support from Joseph C. Duke, former Senate sergeant-at-arms, in an attempt to get the 19-vote delegation of Duke's home state of Arizona behind the vice president.

As the lone active contender for the nomination who has supported Johnson's Vietnam policies, Humphrey intends to be guided in campaigning on that issue by developments in the President's attempts to get negotiations going with the Communists.

His friends think any progress toward peace will benefit the vice president more than either Kennedy or McCarthy, who have been critical of Johnson's course.

Humphrey concedes that at this point he doesn't have the money necessary for a national campaign for the nomination. But he expects it to begin coming in after his formal announcement.

The number known to have been purged climbed to 38 with the "resignation" of Adam Schaff, director of the Polish Academy of Science's Institute of a Philosophy and Sociology, and the expulsion from the party of Jozef Piatkowski, rector of Lodz University.

"Spiritual Leader"

Schaff, a Jew and a member of the party central committee, had been called a "spiritual leader" of the student riots. PAP, the official news agency, said Piatkowski hampered party organizations trying to master the disturbances.

At least 13 other educators have been dismissed from the party or their posts following the riots. Informed sources said about 140 other persons have been fired or demoted at the State scientific publishing house which has been attacked for "mistakes in the field of modern history."

The organization, staffed with many Jews, has been accused of giving too much emphasis to the deaths of Jews and gypsies and not enough to non-Jewish Poles in the official encyclopedia's account of Nazi concentration camps.

Candidates Paused for Funeral

Presidential Campaigning Resumes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1968 political campaign—at a virtual standstill since the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King and the violence it touched off—regained momentum today.

Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., the only announced Democratic presidential candidates, planned campaigning in Indiana and Nebraska, respectively.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, reported ready to enter the Democratic race after Easter, was a likely candidate to throw out the first ball at the Washington Senators American League baseball season opener against the Minnesota Twins.

Republican Richard M. Nixon was the only announced presidential candidate with no campaign plans for the day.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—citing "crisis and confusion probably without parallel in our history"—meanwhile announced he is readying major position statements on national and international issues.

Attended Funeral

All five of the political figures were among national leaders who attended King's funeral Tuesday in Atlanta.

Rockefeller said March 21 when he declared he was not a presidential candidate that he would speak out on the issues and try to influence his party's platform and philosophies.

He also said then that he would accept a presidential draft.

Repeating his March 21 statement that the nation is enduring a time of crisis and confusion probably without parallel, Rockefeller added Tuesday:

"The tragic events of recent days makes this obvious truth more plain than ever. This truth imposes on every American—and especially everyone in public life—a special responsibility to know his responsibility and to speak his mind."

Rockefeller announced he is killed, at least 35 persons injured and more than 175 arrested in a night of shooting, burning and looting that followed in the wake of a memorial march for King.

Some 2,200 National Guardsmen were dispatched to aid city and state police but the combined force of 3,300 did not control the outbursts until after midnight.

The night of violence followed a daylight confrontation when police used tear gas to rout some 1,000 Negroes gathered at city hall. Mayor Ilus W. Davis later apologized for the use of gas but police defended it.

Trenton was under curfew today after violence that brought death to a 19-year-old Negro youth and carried destruction to the fringes of the Statehouse grounds.

State police bolstered the local force and at least 40 persons were arrested. Taverns, liquor stores and gas stations were closed.

In Jacksonville, a bullet fired from a car filled with white youths killed a Negro teenager as the city underwent a second night of firebombings and disturbances.

Shot in Head

Duval County Sheriff Dale Carson said the youth was shot through the head as he sat on his bicycle.

The shooting occurred two blocks from where three firebombs had been thrown against the home of a white family a short time earlier. The homeowner extinguished the fire himself.

Wilmington, Del., experienced a second night of disorders marked by devastating fires which destroyed 21 buildings along two blocks in the predominantly Negro West Center City section.

mitted "centralization of control."

The U.S. Command said the aim of the new drive is "the elimination of enemy forces throughout the 11 provinces in the 3rd Corps tactical zone."

The operation involves three U.S. divisions and the equivalent of a fourth, three South Vietnamese divisions, two South Vietnamese paratroop and marine task forces, the 1st Australian Task Force, which includes New Zealand troops, and the Royal Thai Army Regiment.

U.S. units taking part are the 1st, 25th and 9th Infantry Divisions, the 3rd Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division, the 199th Light Infantry Brigade and the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment.

Fighting in Lull

No major ground fighting was reported elsewhere in Vietnam for the second straight day, and for the first time in nearly three months not a single enemy mortar, rocket or artillery round landed on the shell-scarred Marine combat base at Khe Sanh over a 24-hour period. From Jan. 21 until Tuesday, North Vietnamese gunners had kept up a relentless daily shelling, sometimes as many as 1,500 rounds in one day, sometimes as few as 50.

The 20,000-man allied force that relieved the Marines at Khe Sanh last week continued finding bodies of North Vietnamese killed in the relentless air and artillery bombardment with which U.S. forces had pounded the hills and jungles around the base in the northwest corner of the country.

tant to send their representatives to Phnom Penh."

Controversy over the site is the first roadblock in getting the talks under way. Hanoi has said the talks will be concerned only with arranging a full halt to air and sea attacks against North Vietnam. This, Hanoi insists, must precede any full-scale talks for peace.

The South Koreans, a U.S. ally in Vietnam, were voicing reservations about the trend toward negotiations.

Lt. Gen. Chae Myung-shin, commander of South Korean forces in Vietnam, said in Seoul: "It was shocking to me, as it was to the Republic of Vietnam people, that Washington-Hanoi contacts for peace talks came at a time when only a little more push is needed to win the war."

Cuba Claims Tool to Liberate Cane Cutters

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A sugar cane harvesting machine called "The Liberator" has been invented in Cuba and will be manufactured on a large scale, Havana Radio says.

The broadcast, monitored in Miami, said that Fidel Castro has promised that with the new machine Cuba's harvest of sugar, its dollar-earning crop, will be 100 per cent mechanized by 1970.

"This will liberate our cane cutters," the Cuban radio said.

It's Little Things That Make Life Worthwhile

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living: Children skipping rope to a chant their grandmothers knew when young. The healing of a wound and the falling off of an ugly scab. New hopes in a new spring. A line of daffodils making a yellow bonfire along a green hedge.

The sound of gospel singing in a weathered rural church. Old ladies with fat arms leaning on pillows in tenement windows to get a breath of April air and see what's stirring on the streets below. Colts frolicking before a wind rippling across an emerald pasture. The twilight sound of bells, ringing from far away.

Tossing a stone into a small lake at dusk and wondering if the spreading ripples will undulate forever. Consoling a sobbing baby after it falls down and hurts itself, or gets soap-suds in its eyes while taking a bath. Finding the paycheck unexpectedly larger by a few dollars, and deciding that maybe the boss isn't such a forgetful ogre after all.

Great Oaks

Painting an old boat and planning on all the fish you'll catch from it come summer. Homely secretaries trying on a new lipstick color and anxiously asking each other, "Madge, what do you think—does this one do anything for me?" The delirious ecstasy of taking a hot shower after a day-long hike through the woods. The strange feeling of security that comes from touching the shaggy bark of a great oak tree, still alive after the ordeals and tumults of a century of storm.

The red thrill of the first strawberries of the season upon the breakfast plate. Hitting a 250-yard drive over a golf course water hazard, or seeing Mickey Mantle or Willie Mays jog around the base paths after lofting a long ball into the stands. Telling ghost stories to Scouts making their first overnight hike. Putting in a garden and counting how many long weeks it will be until the tomatoes rippen. God and the bugs being willing.

Assuring a middle-aged wife you couldn't possibly love her any more, even if she dieted off 10 pounds instead of five. Listening to the kids laugh as they go through an old family album and see how funny Dad and Mom looked when they were teen-agers. The surge of joy at getting a letter from a friend who has conquered an ailment that he feared might be mortal. Discovering that the neighbors who recently moved in next door are real nice people, and not at all the kind who get a pleasure out of building spite fences.

Picking up a forgotten poetry anthology and finding the words now have a deeper, richer meaning to you than they did in high school or college. Watching robins collect worms for their young after a rain—among birds as well as people, a mother's work is never done. Being able to brag at the office that your daughter, after a slow start in algebra, is now the class whiz in quadratic equations, whatever they are.

Winning the one-legged hop-ping race at the annual PTA picnic. Discussing gravely with two precocious salesladies from the Girl Scouts whether your family needs two or three boxes of cookies, price no object. Calling a family debate on how the budget should be stretched this year—to buy a new car you can't afford, or a color television set the kids say they can't do without.

Of such commonplace but memorable sights, sounds, scenes and events are our lives made, moment by moment, day by day, year after year, 'til the thread is spun and the tale told. No scream of bugles—just the steady hum of daily living.

Nicklaus and Palmer Again Rated Masters Favorites

Big Jack Nicklaus points his putter at Augusta, Ga. "Everything I've done up to now has been just shadow-boxing," the 3-time winner of the Masters explained. (AP Wirephoto)

Gay Brewer Will Defend His Crown

By BOB GREEN
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A somber, restrained air surrounds the opening of the 32nd Masters Golf Tournament Thursday, with Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, as usual, ranking favorites

Neither of the giants of the game was especially pleased with his game, however, while defending champion Gay Brewer was downright dismayed. "I just can't putt," said Brewer, who hasn't won since taking the 1967 title. "The rest of my game is good enough, I suppose, but I just can't sink a putt. I can't seem to get my mind on it."

Palmer and Nicklaus had their chronic complaints. Palmer said he couldn't putt. Nicklaus said he couldn't drive. "I had rounds of 66 and 67 on the last day at Greensboro," Palmer said, "and I didn't sink a putt all day. The rest of it is good. If I could putt I'd be in good shape."

'Always Having Trouble'
"I'm having trouble with my driver," said Nicklaus, the game's biggest hitter. "I'm always having trouble with my driver"

Despite their troubles, they've won seven of the last 10 Masters, and easily rank as the men to beat in the relatively small field of 76 of the world's best.

But even their magic presence on the lushly green Augusta National Course Tuesday — both were late arrivals — failed to generate the excitement usually connected with this, the first of the world's four major tournaments

The crowds for the practice rounds were small and subdued. Palmer, amazingly, walked through a crowd unnoticed when he first reached the course. He declined a practice round, and contended himself with some work off the tee while his

Boelter and Lamers Score Double Wins for AHS-W

GREEN BAY — Green Bay Preble slammed four events, including three in the field, in gaining an 82-45 triumph over Appleton West in a dual track meet Tuesday afternoon.

The Hornet's took firsts in nine of the 15 tests on the program, among them the two relays. The winners' Dan Blohowiak and Dan Pohlman scored victories in two events each, as did Steve Lamer and Joe Boelter for the Terrors.

Lamers triumphed in the long jump and high jump, while Boelter raced home first in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Other Appleton athletes posting wins were Chuck Bohon and Tom Sommer, who competed in the 2-mile and mile runs, respectively.

The meet was the outdoor opener for AHS-W.

30 Apply at Wisconsin For Cage Job

MADISON (AP) — The University of Wisconsin says it has received approximately 30 applications concerning its head basketball coachinb position, which was vacated last week by John Erickson.

The school said Tuesday a committee of the Athletic Board is to begin reviewing the applications prior to interviews which have been scheduled for April 22-23.

Spokesmen said the school will be making contacts on its own besides the applications. Erickson has accepted the post of general manager with the new Milwaukee expansion franchise of the National Basketball Association. He had been Badger coach for nine seasons

KAUKAUNA — Two Fond du Lac hurlers allowed two hits and struck out 17 Kaukauna batters, as the Cardinals scored an 8-0 triumph over the Ghosts in both teams' baseball season opener Tuesday afternoon.

Don Eiring worked the first five innings for the winners and gave up harmless singles to the Ghosts' Ken Kappell in the first inning and John Pendleton in the fourth frame. He struck out 13 and walked two. Mike Grater then finished up, fanning four more and walking one.

Dave La Borde was the victim of all eight runs as a starter for Kaukauna. He allowed six hits, fanned three, and walked four. Freshman Al Borchardt hurled the last two innings and posted one strikeout beside allowing two hits.

Fondy scored twice in the first inning, with the big hit a triple by Bill Minnich. The Cards then put the game away in the second by rallying for five runs on three hits. Grater's double with the bases loaded accounted for three of the markers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mark Winzenried, a University of Wisconsin freshman, was listed No. 1 Tuesday in the current season's world indoor track ratings for the best clocking in the 880-yard run

The speedster from Monroe set U.S. and world freshman indoor marks Saturday with 1:50.1 in the U.S. Track and Field Federation meet in Madison.

The season's best time in the 880 had been 1:50.4, and the old world mark was 1:50.5.

Winzenried also bettered the UW freshman record of 1:51.4 which he had set earlier

Teammate Mike Butler was rated No. 1 for the current season in the 50 and 70-yard high hurdles with times of 5.9 and .81 respectively. He also has the best 70-yard low-hurdles mark—7.6

Wisconsin's Ray Arrington was fourth nationally in the 880, and sixth in the 1,000

Mike Van Susteren, of Little Chute St. John, won the 880-yard race in a meet against Freedom held at the Fox Valley Lutheran track Tuesday. Second place went to Steve Hietpas, also of St. John. The Chuters scored a 91-26 victory over Freedom in the season opener. (Post-Crescent Photo)

The meet was held on the Fox Valley Lutheran track. Austin posted individual victories in the high and low hurdles, the high jump and the pole vault.

"Oscar" Schuler notched a pair of firsts for the Dutchmen as he won the discus and shot put.

Cards Open Title Defense Tonight Against Atlanta

Full Slate of 10 Games Set On Delayed Opening-Day Card

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
The St. Louis Cardinals' World Series line-up should be intact for their belated baseball opener tonight but the Los Angeles Dodgers will be starting a 1968 comeback drive without Manager Walter Alston

Atlanta takes on the world champion Cardinals at St. Louis, Philadelphia visits the Dodgers and Pittsburgh is at Houston in arclight games, completing a full season opening slate after two days of postponements.

In National League daytime inaugurals—deferred until this afternoon in respect to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King—the New York Mets were at San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs at Cincinnati

Washington met Minnesota in the traditional Presidential opener, with Vice President Humphrey expected to throw out the first ball as a replacement for work-laden President Johnson

Boston was at Detroit, Cleveland at Chicago, Oakland at Baltimore and California at New York in other American League opening games

Same Cast
Roger Maris' recovery from a groin injury has virtually assured the Cardinals of beginning the season with the same cast that took the final game of the 1967 Series from the Red Sox.

Maris will bat in the No. 3 spot, ahead of National League MVP Orlando Cepeda, as the Cards open with bullet Bob Gibson opposing the Braves' Pat Jarvis

"Gibson's the best in the National League right now," said Atlanta catcher Joe Torre Tuesday of the tall right-hander, who beat Boston three times in the Series. Torre, Hank Aaron, Felipe Alou and Deron Johnson give the Braves a formidable attack despite the loss of Rico

Carty, out for the year with tuberculosis. Alston, 56-year-old dean of major league managers, underwent successful surgery Tuesday night for removal of kidney stones. He's expected to be missing from the dugout for the first three weeks of his 15th season.

Coaches Jim Gilliam, Preston Gomez, Danny Ozark and Lefty Phillos will direct the club in Alston's absence

The Dodgers, who reset their opener from Tuesday night after Philadelphia announced it would forfeit the game rather than play on the date of Dr. King's funeral, will send Claude Osteen against the Phils' Chris Short in a duel of southpaw pitchers. Los Angeles hopes to bounce back into pennant contention after tumbling to eighth place last year.

Prospects Brightened
The Pirates, whose pennant prospects were brightened considerably by the acquisition of veteran Jim Bunning, have named the slim right-hander-to-pitch in the Astrohome opener, originally scheduled for Monday night.

Larry Dierker, one of the Astros' strong-armed youngsters, will be Bunning's mound opponent. The game marks the major league managerial debut of Pittsburgh's Larry Shepard.

The Senators-Twins opener, also pushed back from Monday in the wake of racial disturbances in the nation's capitol, pitted Washington's Camilo Pascual against Dean Chance of Minnesota in a right-handers' battle

Minnesota, one of the pre-season AL favorites, and the Senators

Wrightstown Baseball Team Nips Kimberly

Edinger Wins 1-0 Duel From Kalies; Bunt Scores Run

WRIGHTSTOWN — Larry Edinger, of the Wrightstown High School baseball team, edged Kimberly's Ralph Kalies, 1-0, in a torrid season opening pitching duel here Tuesday.

The Tigers scored in the fifth inning on two errors and a bunt single. It was one of the three outs surrendered by Kalies, who struck out 18 batters in the 7-inning game. He walked no one.

Edinger, meanwhile, pitched a 2-hitter, fanned eight and walked two. He also whacked a double—the only extra base hit of the non-league game.

In the Wrightstown fifth, Tom Ribarchek was safe when the third base man erred on his bunt. Pat West struck out, but on the dropped third strike the Kimberly catcher overthrew first base, and Ribarchek raced to third.

Clarence Daniels laid down a safety squeeze, and the run scored.

Former Colorado Cager Dies of Gunshot Wounds

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Lee Robbins, 43, a former university of Colorado basketball player, was found dead of gunshot wounds in the head late Monday night near Logan Airfield.

Police Chief Richard Wilson said Tuesday night that a post-mortem disclosed Robbins was shot twice in the head.

Robbins was a salesman for a pharmaceutical firm.

He was a member of the 1946-47 Colorado basketball squad. In 1946, the Buffaloes, not yet in the Big Eight Conference, went to the NCAA regional tournament and lost in the first round to California. Robbins also played one season with the professional New York Knickerbockers.

Survivors include his widow, Janet, and three children.

Dallas Remains Tough at Home

Chaparrals Nudge Buccaneers; NBA Playoffs to Resume

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The New Orleans Buccaneers strode into the den of the Dallas Chaparrals and, like everyone else, had a miserable time.

The Chaparrals, team of homebodies, made the Bucs their 15th straight home court victim Tuesday night and evened their American Basketball League playoff series at 1-1.

Dallas fought off a desperate last period rally by New Orleans for 112-109 victory in the best-of-7 Western Division final set, and the Buccaneers won't get out of Dallas until after tonight's third game.

Pittsburgh and Minnesota, also tied at 1-1, resume their Eastern Division final series tonight in Minnesota.

The National Basketball Association also begins play again tonight with Philadelphia at Boston and San Francisco at Los Angeles.

The Celtics will be trying to retain the home court advantage they gained last Friday by beating the defending champion 76ers in Philadelphia.

"Sometimes there is tendency to let down at home, and if we let down any tonight we are in trouble," said Boston captain John Havlicek before the second game of the best-of-7 Eastern

FOR THE BEGINNER: SHAFT FLEX AND SWING WEIGHT

IN RESPECT TO SWING WEIGHT, LENGTH, AND FLEX OF SHAFT—SELECTION OF A SET OF CLUBS IS LARGELY A MATTER OF PERSONAL PREFERENCE. HOWEVER, WEIGHT AND FLEX SHOULD HARMONIZE.

A LARGE, STRONG GOLFER USUALLY PREFERS A LONGER THAN AVERAGE DRIVER WITH A HEAVY CLUBHEAD. HE SHOULD HAVE A STIFF (X) SHAFT TO COUNTERBALANCE THE HEAVY HEAD. DESPITE BEING CONSIDERED A STRONG HITTER, I PERSONALLY PREFER A REGULAR LENGTH DRIVER (#3), AND A LIGHT HEAD (D-1) WITH AN S SHAFT (WHICH IS A LITTLE WHIPPER THAN AN X — BUT REACTS LIKE ONE SINCE THE SWING WEIGHT IS SO LIGHT).

SO WHATEVER LENGTH SHAFT YOU CHOOSE TO MATCH YOUR PHYSIQUE, ALSO MATCH WEIGHT AND FLEX.

Globetrotter Owners May Bid For Oakland's Hockey Team

MILWAUKEE (AP) — One of the Harlem Globetrotters' new owners said today he and his associates might be interested in the Oakland Seals' National Hockey League franchise should a proposed transfer of the team to Vancouver, B.C., be rejected by the league.

George Gillett, who with John O'Neal and Potter Palmer acquired the Globetrotters basketball ownership last year, said consideration of the Seals depends on whether the league approves of a recent offer by Labatt Breweries of Vancouver to buy the franchise, valued at $5 million.

"Individually or as a group, we would not be interested in considering making an offer until after we see how the Labatt offer turns out," Gillett said when contacted at his Chicago home. Gillett is formerly of Racine.

Gillett, who with Palmer and O'Neal has interests in several pro organizations, disclosed earlier during a televised interview in Green Bay that his group has an eye on the financially troubled Seals.

The Seals' owners, with whom the Oakland Coliseum has a four-year contract, are expected to ask the NHL at a June meeting to approve a sale to Labatt. Nine of the league's 12 governors would have to approve on two points—the sale, and the transfer to Vancouver.

Barry van Gerbig, principal owner of the Seals, has said the club's operation cost him $3 million last season, particularly due to poor attendance.

"We could be interested," Gillett said, "if the Labatt offer were turned down. We could be interested in study of the potential. It would be an individual interest, and would not involve the Globetrotters."

41 Arrested in Raid On Georgia Cock Fight

YOUNG HARRIS, Ga. (AP) — A raid on a cock fight near the North Carolina line resulted in the arrests of 41 persons.

Double Dose of Bobby Hull Fails to Stop Rangers

By HAL BOCK NEW YORK (AP) — Even a double dose of Bobby Hull couldn't stop New York's determined Rangers. Now they carry a commanding 2-0 lead in their best-of-7 National Hockey League east Division semifinal playoff series against Chicago.

The Black Hawks, desperately trying to fight their way out of a slump that dumped them into fourth place and left them winless in six straight games at the close of the regular season, bowed 2-1 to New York Tuesday night.

It wasn't Hull's fault. The human howitzer did double duty, playing regularly on two separate lines, killing penalties and spending more time on the ice than any man on either team except the goaltenders.

"I've never seen a man play that much," said Emile Francis, manager-coach of the Rangers. "Everytime you looked up, he was out there."

"Seemed Like 45" Hull was unofficially clocked on the ice for 30 minutes, 18 seconds—about half of the game. "Seemed like 45 to me," said Francis. "It was 28 by our clock," said Billy Reay, coach of the Hawks.

"I was tired at the end," Hull admitted. "It's tough to go that long."

Reay was obviously trying to

Hawthorne-Crescent B 2 Wednesday, April 10, 1968

Hadfield line out against the Hawks.

"It's easier to check him as a center," Francis explained. "There's more room to maneuver there." Even so, the Ranger coach whispered some strategy to Ratelle before sending him out on the big assignment.

What did he tell Ratelle? "I said, 'don't let him shoot,'" Francis winked.

Hull scored Chicago's only goal when Ed Giacomin, New York's goalie was trapped out of his net in the second period.

Sanders Has Heart Set On Winning 'Master's'

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Doug Sanders, the smalltown Georgia caddy who grew into golf's most flamboyant swinger, thinks this may be his year in the Masters.

"You could call it a moment of truth for me this year," said Sanders, "because I'm going to find out whether my new system will pay off."

"I sure hope it does. I'm feeling real strong, and I'm playing pretty good."

Sanders, a financial success but still looking for his first victory in a prestige tournament, has his heart set on winning a big one this year.

Berry, Ward Only Holdovers

Stanky to Start Horlen Against Cleveland Today

CHICAGO (AP) — The new-look Chicago White Sox will open the baseball season today with Joe Horlen on the mound against the Cleveland Indians, who are sporting a new manager.

With only two players in the starting lineup which opened the season last year, Manager Eddie Stanky finally decided to use Horlen against the Indians and his old teammate, Alvin Dark.

Stanky, who has named the Indians as his darkhorse choice for the American League pennant mainly because of Dark, selected Horlen as his starting pitcher. Horlen has a 9-2 lifetime record against Cleveland.

Different Positions

Only Ken Berry and Pete Ward are holdovers from the starting lineup Stanky used in the 1967 opener. And the two of them will be in different positions. Berry started in right field last year but will be in center field Wednesday and Ward, who will be in right field, started at first base last season.

Dark, who played on National League pennant winners with Stanky with the old Boston Braves and the old New York Giants, has nominated Sonny Siebert as his starter.

Siebert fashioned a 10-12 record last year and was 0-2 against the Sox. New faces in the Cleveland lineup include outfielders Jose Cardenal and Tommy Harper.

Cardenal was obtained from the California Angels and Harper from Cincinnati.

Walleye or Sauger? There Is Difference

Every goggle-eyed fish the Wisconsin angler lands isn't necessarily a walleye, particularly if the fishing is done in the Lake Winnebago waters. It may look like a walleye on the stringer, smell like a walleye in the pan and taste like a walleye with bread, butter and beer, but it could very well be a sauger.

Like its close cousin, the walleye, the sauger has been misnamed. Fishermen insist on calling walleyes "pike" or wall-eyed pike and saugers are commonly called sand pike in this locality. Actually both species are members of the perch family and like their yellow perch cousins are top table fare, usually lacking the swift savagery of the real pike, like the northern and muskellunge.

But sauger can be told from walleyes if the fisherman pauses to look closely at his catch before stringing him or returning him to water. Size is of little help, although saugers are slower growing and don't reach the bulk walleyes do.

The world record for sauger is a Nebraska fish 28 inches long weighing 8 pounds, 5 ounces. The world's record walleye is a 41 inch, 25-pound Tennessee monster. But in the field of small walleye and large sauger things can get confusing.

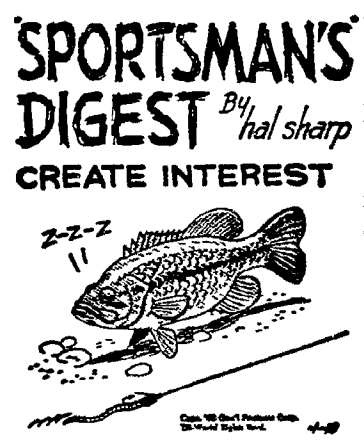

More Streamlined

The sauger is a bit more streamlined than the walleye has two or more rows of black dots on the first dorsal fin and a black patch on the base of the pectoral fin. The sauger has cheek scales, the walleye does not and the sauger lacks the white edging on the lower lobe of the tail fin that is a distinctive walleye mark.

With sharp-spined dorsal fins, like the walleye a sauger can hurt a fisherman who handles him carelessly. Whether there are hybrid walleye-sauger has never been satisfactorily established. The quickest thing that may catch a fisherman's eye before he looks for further identifying marks are the dark blotches or saddles going over the fish's backbone, but these often vanish within minutes after the fish is out of water.

While they are predacious, the sauger, like the walleye hardly rates as a real battler. For the most sport, very light tackle should be used. In fact, the sauger is less likely to smash a lure or minnow and when jigging or still fishing with a bait

CHANGE LURES IF FISH ARE INDIFFERENT TO WHAT YOU'RE USING, WHETHER FLY-FISHING, PLUG-CASTING OR SPINNING. A FISH'S APPETITE MAY CHANGE FROM HOUR TO HOUR AND DAY TO DAY.

IF EFFORTS ARE FRUITLESS AFTER CATCHING A FISH FROM ONE SPOT, IT MAY MEAN THAT WAS THE ONLY FISH, OR THAT OTHERS ARE SCARED OR HAVE GROWN WISE TO THAT PARTICULAR LURE. IF STRIKES DON'T REWARD A CHANGE OF LURES, TRY A DIFFERENT LOCATION.

THE SAME APPLIES TO USING BAIT: CHANGE IT, OR PRESENTATION, FOR REWARDED INTEREST.

Walter Alston Has Surgery

Removal of Kidney Stone to Sideline Manager 3 Weeks

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Walter Alston, 56-year-old baseball manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, is reported in good condition today after undergoing surgery for removal of a kidney stone.

Dr. David Lester performed the surgery Tuesday night and a spokesman at Daniel Freeman Hospital said the date of Alston's release from the hospital depended on his recovery.

The 15-year Dodger manager was expected to be out in about three weeks.

The Dodgers open the National League season tonight against Philadelphia in Dodger Stadium. The squad will be directed by the coaching staff including Jim Gilliam, Preston Gomez, Danny Ozark and Lefty Phillips.

Little Switzerland's Young People Learn About Safety

MONROE (AP) — Young people in America's Little Switzerland are still learning to shoot the arrows which have been aimed at apples during the age-old Wilhelm Tell pageants here.

Now, 4-H leaders, not school pageant directors, are providing most of the instruction, through a hunter safety instruction program set up by Wisconsin Conservation officials.

Since Wilhelm Tell type crossbows used in pageants are not exactly on the accepted list as far as sporting arms go, bows are used to hurl the arrows to their marks.

But the program, including bow and gun training and nature studies has proved appealing in Green County with more than 130 youths registered this year.

Calvin Kraemer, local 4-H club agent, explains that the program is being promoted throughout the state.

Locally, those interested in enrolling make arrangements through the county extension office, which has helped a number of 4-H and Scout leaders obtain training in a course satisfying requirements established by the National Rifle Association and conservation officials.

Students have to be at least 12 years of age to enroll for the program. Patches and certificates are presented to those who complete a series of leader-taught sessions.

84-Year History
Of Games; Cubs
Opponent Today

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati and the Chicago Cubs square off today to open the 1968 National League baseball season. The opener with the Chicago Cubs originally was to have been played Monday but was postponed until today in tribute to the slain Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

It marked only the third time in the 84-year history of Reds' home openers that the first game had to be postponed.

The power-laden Reds go into the pennant race tabbed as one of the pennant contenders. The only problems, at the moment, involve the arm ailments of pitchers Gary Nolan and Billy McCool.

With them sidelined, Manager Dave Bristol has only three proven starting pitchers—Milt Pappas, today's hurler, Jim Maloney and Mel Queen.

Opposing Pappas today on the mound was the Cubs' Joe Niekro.

Manager Leo Durocher, who piloted the Cubs to an amazing third place finish last year, will have two newcomers in the lineup. They are outfielder Lou Johnson, obtained in a trade with Los Angeles, and second baseman Jose Arcia, filling in for regular Glenn Beckert, who is doing a tour of military duty.

Rangers Take
2-0 Edge Over
The Black Hawks

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Montreal Canadiens have Boston in an awfully deep hole. The New York Rangers, who know what it's like down there, are trying to dig one just like it for the Chicago Black Hawks.

Montreal dropped Boston to the brink of elimination in the National Hockey League's best-of-7 East Division playoffs with their third straight victory over the Bruins, 5-2 Tuesday night.

The Rangers, meanwhile, who were eliminated in four straight games by the Canadiens last year, whipped Chicago 2-1 for their second straight victory over the Black Hawks.

In the only other playoff game played, the Minnesota North Stars walloped Los Angeles 7-5 leaving the Kings still in front 2-1 in their best-of-7 West Division series. Philadelphia and St. Louis, tied 1-1 in games, were idle.

The Canadiens won after some spectacular first-period goaltending by Gump Worsley took the wind out of Boston's strong start.

Worsley yielded an early goal by Ed Westfall but then held the Bruins off and Jean Beliveau's power play goal got the Canadiens even.

The Canadiens then packed goals by Claude Provost, Ralph Backstrom and John Ferguson into the second period and coasted after that.

Donnie Marshall scored New York's winner, a backhand shot that got between Chicago goalie Denis DeJordy and the post with less than 7 1/2 minutes left in the game.

Minnesota, down two games to Los Angeles, fell behind 3-1 against the Kings, but rallied to win the pivotal third game.

Bill Collins scored twice for Minnesota as the steady North Star attack wore down goalie Terry Sawchuk, who had stifled Minnesota in the first two games of the series.

Former Pro Coach
Bossed Gophers
For Nine Seasons

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — John Kundla, who coached the old professional Minneapolis Lakers to six world championships, has stepped down as basketball coach at the University of Minnesota.

No successor was named immediately.

Kundla's surprise resignation was announced late Tuesday in a statement released by the university. He was not available for comment.

Kundla, 50, will remain at the school as assistant to the director of the School of Physical Education with the faculty rank of associate professor, the announcement said. "That's a new position and is subject to approval by the board of regents."

The new position was one "I could not turn down. I have often thought of returning to the field of physical education," said Kundla in the statement.

Couldn't Bring Title

Kundla played on Minnesota's last Big Ten championship team in 1937 but was unable to bring the Gophers the title as coach.

His 1964-65 team paced by Lou Hudson and Archie Clark, had a 19-5 season record and was ranked seventh nationally by The Associated Press but lost the conference title to Michigan and Cazzie Russell.

The Gophers won 110 games and lost 106 in nine seasons under Kundla, but his last two teams suffered through losing seasons. His 1966-67 team had a 9-15 season record and was 5-9 in the Big Ten.

The past season, when the Gophers were regarded as possible title contenders, they had a disappointing 7-17 record and tied Indiana for ninth in the conference with a 4-10 slate.

IRONSTONE

STILL TIME TO START YOUR SET FINAL 10 WEEK

IRONSTONE, THE FINEST OF EARTHENWARES—It's made from select whitened clays, fired at much higher temperatures than ordinary earthenwares. That makes it extra heavy, extra durable, craze-proof, oven-proof, safe in your dishwasher or the hottest detergent. There's the touch of the decorator in these unusual patterns: Sierra Gold with stylized motif and color accent on bright nugget gold or El Verde Swirl with soft brush-like strokes of mellow avocado green. This is Ironstone of exceptional quality, uncommonly handsome in design.

3 Are Banquet 'Repeaters'

Thirty athletes from all 10 Fox Cities high schools will be feted Monday night in the second Little Chute Junior Chamber of Commerce athletic banquet at the Darboy Club.

The 1967 all-Fox Cities football team and the 1967-68 all-Fox Cities basketball team — both selected by The Post-Crescent sports department — will be feted at the banquet.

Two of the 30 athletes are 2-way award winners. Neenah's Dan Jankowski and Menasha St. Mary's Mike McClone were named to both the grid and cage honor squads.

Three of the honored athletes are "repeaters" from last year's banquet. Jankowski and Little Chute St. John (Oscar) in addition to Fitzgerald, are Schuler have won football awards for two straight years, while Appleton Xavier's Patna's Dennis Spice; Kimberly's Fitzgerald will be the only Don Hagany; Neenah's Dale Magdanz; Xavier's Mike Clark; Appleton East's Tom Jones and St. John's Rick Van Roy.

Tickets are still available for the 6:30 p.m. Monday fete, which will also feature a talk by John Coatta, University of Wisconsin football coach.

BALTIMORE (AP) — An extra game was added to the Baltimore Orioles' baseball television scheduled Tuesday in an apparent effort to distract looters.

Baltimore's scheduled American League opener against the Oakland Athletics was postponed Tuesday because of the funeral of Dr. Martin Luther King and reset for Wednesday.

Because of continued violence in Baltimore, which began Saturday night, the Orioles had to get permission from Army officials to hold the game Wednesday.

Dolphins' Jacobs Pounces
On Snakes for a Hobby

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) —Ray Jacobs makes his living by pouncing on men. For a hobby, he pounces on snakes.

Jacobs is a 6-foot-3, 285-pound defensive tackle for the Miami Dolphins. But when he stops slamming into other big men and takes off the helmet with a fish painted on it, he likes to hunt for the deadly Florida cousins of the diamondback rattlesnakes he came to know to. But the snake hunting is more dangerous.

Around Corsicana, Tex., there's not so much brush. "It's open country. When I came here I found out you have to be real careful with all the high grass," he said.

Jacobs usually disposes of the serpents with a gun and sometimes gives the rattles to neighborhood children to take to school. The kids love it.

Trout Film Scheduled At Amherst April 19

AMHERST — A film on trout and trout stream management will be shown April 19 at the meeting of the Tomorrow River Conservation Club.

Disputes Dedication Image

Stanky Says Baseball Comes Second to His Wife, Children

CHICAGO (AP) — Eddie Stanky, the Chicago White Sox's manager who is often painted as a man completely dedicated to baseball, Monday dismissed the idea of such an image.

"All the dedication in the world isn't going to see a contract extended once you fail to produce," said Stanky. "Sure, I like to win and I want to win. But my first obligation is to my wife and children.

"That comes first," said Stanky. "That's where I'm dedicated. Baseball comes second."

Stanky was talking as his White Sox went through a brief drill in preparation for their rescheduled opener against Cleveland on Wednesday.

Originally slated for Tuesday, the opener was moved back because of the funeral of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Stanky, in his third year at the White Sox helm, picked the Boston Red Sox to repeat for the American League pennant because "I always stick with the champion. You have to beat the champions."

Woman Driver Wasn't Lost; Car Bugged Down in Mud

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Pat Moss-Carlsson, sister of former race driver Stirling Moss and an outstanding driver herself, laughed with amusement Tuesday "at all the fuss" over her reported disappearance. Reports from Dar Es Salaam had listed her as lost in isolated Northern Tanzania while on reconnaissance for the gruelling 3,000-mile East African safari motor rally which starts Thursday. "It's true I got bogged down and stranded for about three hours, but we returned to Nairobi without too much trouble," said Mrs. Carlsson who with her Swedish codriver, Liz Nyström, will be in a Renault 16. "Our car sank in thick mud in Masailand, but my husband was out with us in a second car and soon hauled us out with the help of two Africans." Mrs. Carlsson, favored for the women's trophy in the four-day rally, suggested the route be changed because of the heavy monsoon rains and local floods.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jack Christiansen, who was fired as San Francisco 49er head coach, is expected to be named an assistant football coach at Stanford. The Associated Press learned Tuesday. Christiansen could not be reached for comment, but his wife said he has conferred with Stanford officials about the job. Chuck Taylor, Stanford athletic director, did not deny a report that Christiansen would be named. "I'm just not in a position to make any comments," he said. Any announcement, said Taylor, would probably come after the Board of Trustees meeting Thursday, April 18. Final approval would come from the trustees and school president Wallace Sterling. Christiansen's probable duties named an assistant football coach at Stanford. The Associated Press learned Tuesday. Christiansen could not be reached for comment, but his

Erv Van Asten, Don LeNoble Hit Top Games

Dave Heller Paces Metropolitan League With 584 Series

Erv Van Asten smacked a 258 game, and Don LeNoble had a 257 count to highlight action in the Valley League at the Village Lanes, Little Chute.

Van Asten finished with a 558 series while LeNoble had a 602 count.

Other top scores in the Little Chute loop included Clyde Baumgart 588, Stan Welhouse 562; Butch Van Deraa 557, Jerry Reinebeau 555, Wayne Baumgart 554, Joe Minton 551, Bob Heuser 551 and Bill Verhaagen 551.

In the Metropolitan Men's League at Sabre Lanes, Tuesday night, Dave Heller hit a 584 series to lead the way. John Schanzoltzer hit a 572 while Jim Burich and Gene Mueller each had 553.

Al Kemp's 576 series topped the Universal League at the 41 Bowl last night. Joe Vanderloop was next in line with a 570 and other high scores included Clarence Zoelk 566, Brad Cursen 567, Royal Uhlenbruch 561 and Larry Gorges 553.

tors, eyeing a first division finish under new skipper Jim Lemon, met in D.C. Stadium, where federal troops on riot control duty were headquartered Tuesday.

The Giants called on pitching ace Juan Marichal, the Mets on Tom Seaver, 1967 Rookie-of-the-Year, in their San Francisco sendoff. Milt Pappas pitched for the Reds against Joe Niekro of the Cubs at Cincinnati, where the traditional National League opener was to have been played Monday.

Dick Ellsworth, a journeyman left-hander obtained in a trade with Philadelphia, was Boston's opening day pitcher against the Tigers, who countered with big Earl Wilson, a 22-game winner last season.

The Red Sox, forced to begin their pennant without pitching ace Jim Lonborg and slugger Tony Conigliaro, are counting on Triple Crown winner Carl Yastrzemski to take up the slack.

Alvin Dark, Cleveland's new manager, tangled with former teammate Eddie Stanky, the White Sox' pilot, at Chicago. Joe Horlen was Stanky's pitching choice. Sonny Siebert started for the Indians.

At Baltimore, another city disrupted by violence after the assassination of Dr. King, young Tom Phoebus pitched for the Orioles against Oakland's Catfish Hunter. Baltimore started the season without pitcher Pete Richert and shortstop Mark Belanger, who were called up by the National Guard because of the racial unrest.

The A's, who have moved from Kansas City to Oakland, unveiled a new manager, Bob Kennedy, and had ex-Yankee great Joe DiMaggio, a club vice president and coach, in uniform for the opener.

California southpaw George Brunet got the starting assignment against New York right-hander Mel Stottlemyre as the Angels opened at Yankee Stadium, where a threatened strike of groundskeepers and maintenance men was averted Monday with the ratification of a new union contract.

Zephyrs Rally To Win Over Hortonville '9'

Mark Pozolinski's 2-Run Single Keys 5-3 Triumph

HORTONVILLE — Menasha St. Mary exploded for five runs in the sixth inning, climaxed by pitcher Pozolinski's 2-run single, to give the Zephyrs a 5-3 victory over Hortonville in the two teams' opening baseball game of the season Tuesday.

Pozolinski's key hit came with the bases loaded, the score tied at 3-3 and one out in the sixth. The blow came after the Zephyrs had used two Polar Bear errors, two singles, and a hit-batsman to score three times. John Mickalwicz's single drove in the first two Zephyr runs.

Hortonville forged a 3-0 lead in the first inning and retained it until the final sixth. Jay Cordy led off the first by being hit by a pitch, and then teammates Jerry Rudloff, Dick Tennie, Keith Much and Dennis Tessen followed with successive singles to produce the three runs. Pozolinski got the side out with two strikeouts and a ground out.

Pozolinski went all the way for the winners, striking out eight and walking just one. Tennie also hurled the route for Hortonville, recording eight whiffs and four walks.

The Zephyrs' Bill Heimerman was the batting star of the game with three singles in three trips. St. Mary collected eight hits, Hortonville six.

army of followers, usually a stampeding, howling mob, watched in quiet decorum.

The practice was interrupted by a driving rainstorm that cleared the course of spectators and sent players scurrying to the clubhouse to watch the television account of the funeral of Dr. Martin Luther King in Atlanta.

Both Palmer and Nicklaus admittedly are pointing for this Masters. Each feels he needs it. Nicklaus, the 210-pound Ohio strongboy who has won all the world's major titles, practically owned the Masters crown until he fell apart last year and failed to make the cut. He had won three of the four previous Masters and set the scoring record.

"The season starts for me when I tee up Thursday," Big Jack said. "I'm always pointing for this one. Everything I do up to this point is preparation for the Masters."

Palmer, the only four time winner, feels he is overdue. "I've won my share of tournaments," said the muscular millionaire. "But I haven't won one of the big ones—the Masters, British or U.S. Opens or the PGA—since the 1964 Masters."

Among the other favorites are Billy Casper, two-time U.S.

Your Money's Worth Preventive Medicine Can be Great Saving

BY SYLVIA PORTER

An estimated 1,200,000 Americans suffer from glaucoma but don't know it. Yet, virtually all cases of blindness due to glaucoma could now be prevented by simple detection procedures in the disease's early stages.

An estimated 2,000,000 Americans suffer from diabetes without knowing it. This disease, which can be costly and debilitating if it is not treated early, also can be detected by the simplest methods.

We now have virtually proof ways to detect cervical cancer in women, and thus the chance to make it 100 per cent curable. It is further estimated that for every $1 we are now investing in the early detection of cervical cancer, we get back $9 in savings — through avoiding high treatment costs and allowing the victims to live longer, more productive lives. Yet 8,000 American women die each year from this type of cancer.

Reliable and economical disease screening tests also exist today for other diseases ranging from heart disease to blood disorders. Yet, preventive tests are reaching only a fraction of our population. Out of our total national health bill of about $50 billion a year, only $3 billion is being spent for all types of preventive medicine.

Our yearly Medicare-Medicaid bill is now over $4 billion. The total cost of chronic disease to the U. S. economy is $57.8 billion a year. More than 87,300,000 Americans suffer from one or more chronic conditions, most of which might have been prevented or controlled had they been discovered in time.

Yet, notes Dr. Robert H. Ebert, dean of the Harvard Medical School: "Treatment of the end stages of disease is the

"Preventive" Bill To Apply Our Disease-Prevention Techniques Toward Slashing the Enormous Costs, a Bill Entitled the Adult Health Protection Act has been introduced in the Senate. The "Preventive" bill calls for a network of five regional health screening centers in the U. S., computer-linked to 20 smaller centers throughout the nation.

Every American over age 50 would be invited, at little or no cost, to get periodic diagnostic tests. The cost of screening one of the most $60 million during the first three years.

The bill is as of now one of the many legislative casualties of the Vietnam era, but it has the support of both the U. S. medical community and Congressmen across political lines — and its very existence prompts some key questions. Why, for instance, couldn't private corporations set up their own screening centers as an employee fringe benefit, as the famed Kaiser Foundation has done in California?

City, State Programs Why couldn't whole states or cities make routine, comprehensive health screening a part of their public health programs? Why couldn't cities establish, as the city of Hope, Calif., is now doing, fleets of mobile screening clinics which operate near such places which work as factory parking lots?

Why couldn't the private health insurance companies push for — and pay for — widespread diagnostic facilities?

We are still in the dark age of preventive medicine. But to quote the hope recently expressed by Dr. George James, Dean of the Mt. Sinai School of Medicine:

"People may some day begin taking as good care of themselves as they now do of their automobiles, which are generally sent for at least a spring and fall checkup."

Kimberly Alters Courses for Summer School

Most Enrichment Classes Will Be Discontinued

KIMBERLY — Practically all enrichment classes offered during summer school were discontinued, but a remedial reading program for the coming session was approved Monday by the board of education.

Action was taken following a cost study of the enrichment program and attendance rates. Interest in these classes ran high during initial enrollments, but the dropout rate was high, making the program too expensive to maintain.

Approved for elementary pupils were remedial reading, improvement reading, modern math, speech correction and tentatively a science course, which depends on the availability of an instructor. Junior high courses approved include personal typing and modern math.

High school courses approved include introduction to secondary mathematics, geometry and English.

Aid Authorized The board authorized Ray Hamann, superintendent of schools, to enter into agreement with Cooperative Educational Service Agency (CESA) to provide a psychologist for 25 days, a remedial reading instructor for three days per week and a speech correctionist for five days a week for the 1968-69 school year.

The psychologist will conduct a testing program for various grades. The speech correctionist's time was increased from four days a week because of the increased number of students found with speech problems.

Norbert Vanevenhoven was reappointed to a three-year term on the CESA 8 school reorganization committee. Teacher contracts approved for next year included Mrs. Jane Voltz, graduate of Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh, elementary physical education; Mrs. Joanne Obenberger, Wisconsin State University-River Falls, second grade teacher; and Ronald Leskovic, Wisconsin State University-Whitewater, junior high science.

Leskovic is an addition to the staff while the others replace teachers who resigned.

Catholic churches at 7:30 p.m. followed by adoration until midnight. A concelebrated mass followed by all night adoration will get underway at 7:30 p.m. at St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

End of War Likely To Help Education

National School Administrators Official Speaks in Oshkosh

OSHKOSH — Although the present outlook for federal funding is not bright, an end to the Vietnam war would change that picture almost overnight, according to Dr. Forrest E. Conner, executive secretary of the American Association of School Administrators.

"With an end to the war," he told members of the Wisconsin Association of School District Administrators here Tuesday, "we will see so much money poured into education that we may not know what to do with it."

Conner told a luncheon meeting of the state school district superintendents that the 90th Congress has not been as kind to education as the previous Congress, which inquired more educational programs than ever before.

"Regression Congress" "The 90th Congress may go down in history as the Hold-the-Line Congress," he said, or maybe even "The Regression Congress . . ."

Finances are still the number one problem, he said.

"Not only have many authorized appropriations not been made," he said, "but now we are faced with drastic cuts in federal spending."

Conner said that anywhere from $6 to $9 billion in federal spending cuts are possible, and that these cuts will most likely occur in areas such as education, agriculture, highway spending and the space program.

"The outlook for future federal funding in education is at this time not very bright," he said, noting that defense and war costs, welfare programs, national debt payments and other programs will receive higher funding priority.

"We will have to live with it," he told the administrators, "unless we want to discontinue feeding soldiers in Vietnam or stop paying rising welfare costs."

Steps Forward

Conner did note two programs initiated by the 90th Congress that he said were steps forward. One was passage of the Educational Professional Development Act, which he termed a move forward in developing qualified classroom and administrative school personnel.

"No money has been appropriated for the program, he said, although he called it one of the greatest educational advances since passage of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

Conner also cited the introduction of a comprehensive vocational educational bill as another needed step taken by the 90th Congress.

But despite the overall dim picture Conner cautioned the administrators to continue planning for the future, because an end to the Vietnam war would mean that funds now being spent in the war effort would have to be spent elsewhere to prevent sudden inflation.

In light of the increased American emphasis placed on education, he said, it is likely substantial funds would be spent there.

Pessimistic Talk

Describing his talk as pessimistic, Conner added that the American educational system is still strong.

"There is every reason to believe that where we are today, regardless of the economic and other problems confronting us, is evidence of the fact that we have a truly great educational system in this country," he said.

WASDA is meeting at the Pioneer Monday through Wednesday in its first annual convention.

Chocolate-Raisin Lamb Cake

POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR
by Lillian Mackesy

Glazed Baked Ham

Fruited Pork Roast

The symbolism and festive spirit of Easter carries over into the dinner that speaks of family reunion and the welcoming of guests at a table laden with good things to eat. Gaily decorated eggs in tradition almost as old as man in his welcome of the return of Spring . . . flowers bright as any Easter finery . . . the stately lily as solemnly beautiful as the Easter religious service itself . . . the tradition of the Easter bunny . . . all come into their own for one exciting day.

Roast leg of lamb is a delicacy served on festal occasions by peoples of many religious traditions and so is included today with a new recipe that calls for a cider glaze. For those families which follow the tradition of the Easter ham, there's a recipe that even a new homemaker can prepare with great success. This features one of the convenient canned hams with an old-fashioned, half-and-half molasses and mustard glaze (or a new glaze that combines strained peach preserves with the molasses and mustard).

Of course, the cook experienced in the ways of all the hams available can prepare her meat from scratch if she prefers. One thing in favor of a canned ham, it's all meat with no waste, and it's all ready to pop into the oven.

A new idea for an Easter dinner is to prepare a generous-sized rib pork roast with a fruited onion sauce that gives the meat a wonderful flavor.

Easter specials designed to delight the children are two desserts . . . a lamb cake and an elegant Easter nest filled with colored sherbet or milk ice eggs. The little lamb . . . baked in a special mold for best results . . . is really a raisin fudge cake covered with a glossy chocolate coat. It's advisable to allow the raisin-filled cake cool a bit before brushing on the glaze.

Directions to heed for preparing the angel food "nest," is the purchasing of the sherbet ahead of time. Several flavors and colors may be bought, or perhaps a rainbow-hued sherbet is preferred so that it can be all of one kind. Scooped into balls . . . about 20 to 24 are needed to fill one cake

Roast Leg of Lamb

Properly Cooked, Meat Makes Meal

BY MARY-BETH KUESTER
Wisconsin Michigan Power Company

Meat makes the meal — if it's properly cooked.

The taste appeal of each cut of meat depends on how you cook it.

A prestige steak such as porterhouse is tasteless if braised. Broiled low-grade round steak is unchewable. But, correctly cooked, the porterhouse is succulent, and round steak becomes flavorful Swiss steak.

The amount of meat to buy depends on the amount of bone. Boneless meat yields four servings per pound. Bone-in meat will give two servings per pound. Very boney cuts,

Mary-Beth Kuester

such as spareribs, require ¾ to 1 pound of meat for one serving. If catering to growing boys and men with hearty appetites, allow two or three servings per person. If you are cooking a pot roast requiring long cooking, why not plan for leftovers? Consider storage space in refrigerator, freezer and cupboards when buying meat.

TENDERNESS BY GRADE
Tenderness is judged by brand or grade. There is a great difference in quality or tenderness of the same cut of meat depending on brand or grade. Prime or choice cuts would be more tender. Bone shape indicates a tender or less tender cut of meat. T-bone, rib bone, and the wedge bone all identify tender cuts in beef. Round bone and blade bone signal less tender cuts.

The most important guide in meat cookery is to use low temperature. This keeps juice and flavor in the meat, cuts down shrinkage, keeps meat more tender, and prevents burnt fat drippings.

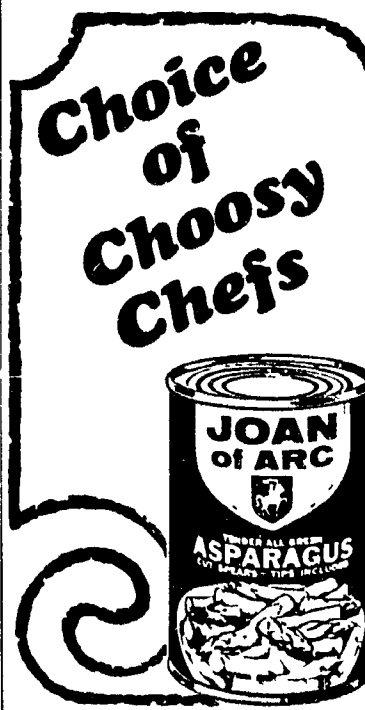

For tender cuts, select a dry-heat method such as oven roasting, oven broiling, pan broiling or pan frying. Moist-heat methods suitable for less tender cuts of meat are braising, pot roasting, and water cooking.

USE THERMOMETER
Test doneness of roasts with a roast meat thermometer. Insert point of thermometer into the center of the thickest part of the meat, not touching the bone.

The correct method for roasting is to place the roast, fat side up, on a rack in an open, low-sided pan. Your broiler pan is excellent for this. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven at 325 degrees. Do not sear roasts — this causes excessive shrinkage.

Here is a flavorful recipe for beef using the moist heat method of cookery.

FRENCH POT ROAST
3- to 4-pound
rump roast

- 2 cups red table wine
- ¼ cup brandy (optional)
- 2 medium onions, sliced
- 1 clove garlic, mashed
- 1 bay leaf
- 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 4 whole cloves
- 1 cup bouillon (made from water and bouillon cube)
- 4 carrots, cut in long strips
- 3 stalks celery, with tops, cut in halves
- 3 large tomatoes, peeled
- 3 sprigs parsley
- Flour

Place meat in a marinade of wine, brandy, onion slices, garlic, and bay leaf; turn frequently.

After several hours, remove from the marinade and drain well, reserving the liquid.

Heat lard in a Dutch oven or heavy pot. Brown the meat on all sides. Slip a rack under the roast, and pour marinade over all. Add seasonings and bouillon. Cover closely and

Ladies Aid to Serve Easter Breakfast

CLINTONVILLE — The Ladies Aid of the St. Martin Lutheran Church will serve Easter breakfast to the choir and pastors Sunday at the parish school. Mrs. William Bruss is chairman of the group serving the breakfast.

Cynthia Gleason, who recently returned from Chile where she attended school for a year under the Americans Abroad program, showed colored slides at the group's recent meeting and spoke of her experiences in Chile.

Hostesses were Mrs. Otto Schellien, Mrs. Gilbert Schmidt, Mrs. Esther Schmidt, Mrs. Norman Schenke, Mrs. Arthur Schneider, Mrs. Arthur Schnorr, Mrs. Albert Schroeder, Mrs. George Schumacher, Mrs. Donald Swenke, Mrs. Walter Sievers, Mrs. Harvey Steenbeck and Mrs. Henry Theis.

New Delights to Inspire the Chef And Please Family

When you are stuffing cabbage leaves — usually this means with a ground beef and rice mixture — be sure to cut away the heavy stem part from each leaf.

Ever combine mashed potatoes with mashed white turnips? You can use potatoes that are "instant" from a package, but you'll have to cook and mash the turnips.

If you use lots of chopped onion in main dishes, you'll find the frozen variety a boon. As much as is needed may be removed from the package and the rest kept on hand in the freezer.

Arrange canned sardines on buttered toast and heat in the oven, cover with a cheddar cheese and serve as a main course for lunch. Good accompanied by tomato salad.

Fresh Orange Freeze for Dieters

Fresh California oranges, a friend to dieters the year round, are especially welcome at Easter time when something cool, refreshing, pretty, yet low in calories is in demand.

This year's Valencia orange crop has superior eating quality. These sweet juicy oranges are in markets now and will be in good supply all through the summer.

Sheinwold Discreet Play Can Win Game

As appetite appeasers, they're the perfect choice of the calorie conscious — a real boon to menu planning. One small to medium size Valencia orange contains only 50 to 70 calories and practically no fat.

Lo-Cal Fresh Orange Freeze is the ideal dieter's dessert. Fresh orange juice gives unique flavor and color, and low calorie lemon-lime carbonated beverage adds a fizzy tang but only two calories to the whole recipe.

This golden ice, topped with delicious orange slices, is an easy spring and summer dessert, sweet with the rewards of cool, satisfying refreshment and few calories.

LO-CAL FRESH ORANGE FREEZE
4 medium Valencia oranges
½ cup fresh orange juice
1 (12-ounce) bottle low calorie lemon-lime carbonated beverage

Peel oranges; slice into cart-wheels. Chill. Combine orange juice and carbonated beverage. Pour into shallow pan and place in freezer. Freeze until crystals form on bottom of pan.

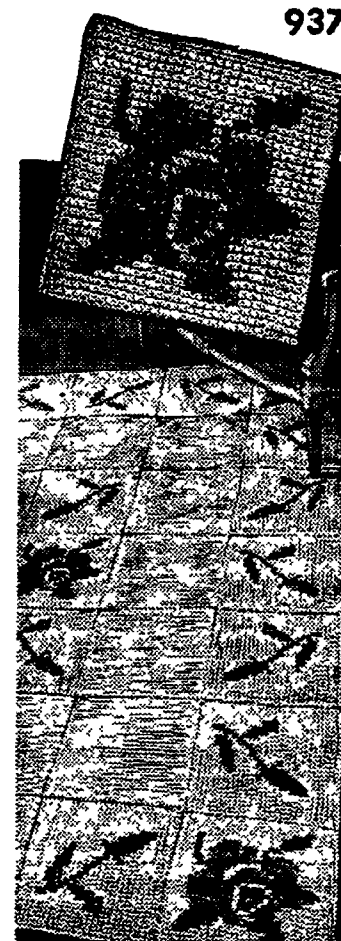

Stir mixture and continue to freeze until partially frozen and slushy. Quickly transfer to a chilled bowl and whip with electric beater at high speed until smooth. (Or place into electric blender; cover and blend at high speed until smooth).

Spoon into serving dishes and top with orange slices. Serve at once. Garnish with fresh mint if desired.

The recipe makes four servings with approximately 85 calories per serving.

trump to the ace. West declared a heart, and South tried to conceal his dismay at the bad trump break.

South immediately led his diamond, but West played the nine to signal that he had an even number of cards in the suit. East got the message and took his ace.

East shifted to the jack of clubs, and South took the king of clubs and gave up a heart. Back came a club to the ace, and South got one with a club. By this time South had only trumps left and had to ruff when East returned a diamond. South had to give up a trump trick and was therefore down one.

Went Wrong
South went wrong at the second trick when he led a trump to the ace. The odds were very high that the queen would fall under the ace or king, but South should have finessed with the jack of spades just the same. A sure thing is better than a strong probability.

In the actual hand, the finesse of the jack of spades would win. South would draw the rest of the trumps and give up one heart, one diamond and one club.

If West had the queen of spades, South's finesse would lose. West would cash one heart and shift to clubs. South would win with the king of clubs, draw the only missing trump and force out the ace of diamonds. East would return a club to the ace, and South would now lead the three of spades to dummy's six in order to discard a club on the queen of diamonds.

The indiscreet finesse at the second trick guarantees either no trump loser or a sure entry to dummy for a diamond trick.

Your Problems

Girl 'Zonked' Over Father Of Boy She's Engaged to

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You will swear this letter is a phony, because my story reads like a four-bit novel but I am begging you to take it seriously because I am on the level.

I go to a well-known girl's school in the East. I became engaged to a Princeton senior three months ago. When I went to his home to meet his parents I flipped over his father. At first I told myself it was too crazy for words and I tried to laugh it off, but I can't laugh any more, and neither can he. We have met in Manhattan several times and he is as zonked over me as I am over him. He wants to divorce his wife and marry me next year.

My fiancé knows nothing of this. I am tearing myself to pieces with indecision. Could it work? He is 27 years older than I am. His wife is three years older than he is and a semi-invalid. After being with Senior, Junior strikes me as Amateur Knight. Could this marriage possibly work? Help me, please. I am not sleeping very well these nights. — Miss Icarus (Get It?)

Dear Miss Icarus: Yeah, I get it and my advice is Drop Daedalus — no pun intended. If you can't sleep now how much sleep do you think you'll get if you allow this aging Romeo to dump his ailing wife and walk off with his son's sweetheart? The man must have rocks in his head and you have a few sizable boulders yourself, Kiddo.

This whole scene is a cross between Sigmund Freud and a Greek tragedy. Forget it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I say something in defense of Gladys, the woman who says there is "nothing so terrible" about leaving the price tag on a gift? She has my vote.

I am a store manager who would be very pleased if all the customers left the sales slip, price tags and all other tags on the gifts. When merchandise is brought back to the store for exchange it is a real headache if all signs of size, price, and sales are removed. The person who brings in the article has no knowledge of the purchase, of course, and can be of little help.

The idea of concealing the price so the person will not know what you spent is ridiculous. Most people can just about guess. And what difference does it make anyway? I hope you will print my letter. It would be a public service — especially to the retailers. — Danbury

Dear Dan: Here's your letter and I am printing it not as a public service but because it represents another point of view. I still say gifts should not be presented with the sales slips and price tags attached. It's bad manners.

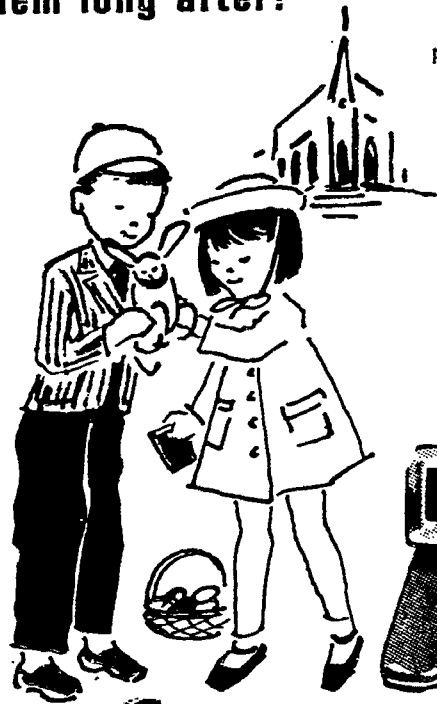

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet "Alcoholism — Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Educators and Children Explore World of Music

Local elementary school children had an opportunity to explore Music with Multi-Age Groups and "The Music Educator as an Articulate Resource for the Classroom Teacher," Eunice Boardman and Robert Penn during Appleton's Music Symposium. "Implementing Contemporary Concepts to Update Elementary Music Education" Friday and Saturday at the Lawrence Music-Drama Center.

Sponsored by the Appleton Public School Music Department, the Lawrence Conservatory of Music, and Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., the program was attended by more than 100 educators from Wisconsin, Illinois and Minnesota.

Friday's session began with a discussion of pre-reading level materials led by guest speaker, Dr. Boardman, who is professor of music education at Wichita State University, Wichita, Kan., and director of the Southwest region's Institute for Music in Contemporary Education.

Then, after speaking on "Exploring Music with Multi-Age Groups" and "The Music Educator as an Articulate Resource for the Classroom Teacher," Dr. Boardman settled back with others to enjoy a concert presented by the Appleton YMCA Boys Choir, led by Mr. Penn, supervisor of music for Appleton Public Schools.

LaVahn Maesch, dean, Lawrence Conservatory of Music, and William Spears, superintendent of Appleton public schools, opened Saturday's program by discussing the question: Is there a case against fulltime music instruction by music specialists in the elementary school?

Preceding the summation and discussion which concluded the symposium, a demonstration was presented by Dr. Boardman and the primary unit from Highlands Elementary School. Utilizing her experience as public school teacher, clinician and adjudicator, she directed the children as they explored the world of music together.

Appleton YMCA Boys Choir members, Kevin Evraets and Charles Leeman, were fully absorbed in following the direction of Robert Penn, who led the group in concert before educators attending a music symposium Friday.

At right, Dr. Eunice Boardman, guest speaker and author of a new elementary music series, "Exploring Music," used a little body English to capture the attention of the primary unit of Highland Elementary School during its performance Saturday.

The Practical Gardener

Try Some New Annuals In Your Flower Garden

One of the greatest joys of gardening is to try something new. It's fun to keep a jump ahead of one's friends.

Among the annual flowers there are a great number which are little known and deserve wider appreciation. For instance, everyone knows the regular sweet alyssum which make a handsome 6 inch-high edging, but how many have tried the tiny ones, only half as high for daintier, more intimate edgings?

Or, how many have tried white, daisy-like arctotis which produces its delicately tinted blooms all summer? It has much more grace and distinction than the daisy and is excellent for cutting.

Crimson Leaves

Bright, fiery crimson leaves producing a plant reminiscent of the poinsettia, that is the amaranthus. Three feet or more tall, it is excellent against a background or as a background.

Dainty, pale blue and lacy are the blooms of the blue lace flower, excellent in borders particularly in cool places. Also good for cutting.

And, you don't have to be

Irish to appreciate the Bells of Ireland with their 2-foot stems clothed up and down with translucent green bell-like structures. They're long-lasting and excellent for cutting.

For semi-shade or cool, dry places try the clarkias. Easily grown, they reach 2 to 3 feet tall and are topped with dainty purple, pink, rose, mauve, white blooms.

Long-Lasting Gerberas

Very much like the arctotis but with their graceful, long-petaled daisies in tones of soft orange, yellow, white, scarlet, crimson or rose are the long-lasting gerberas. With care they can sometimes also be grown indoors.

Then in a cool, semi-shaded, moist soil it's a good idea to experiment with the godetias or satin flowers. Rose, carmine, pink or blue cups are borne on sturdy 15-inch plants making them ideal for garden bedding. These and many other little-known plants await you, if you explore the seed catalogs or garden shops.

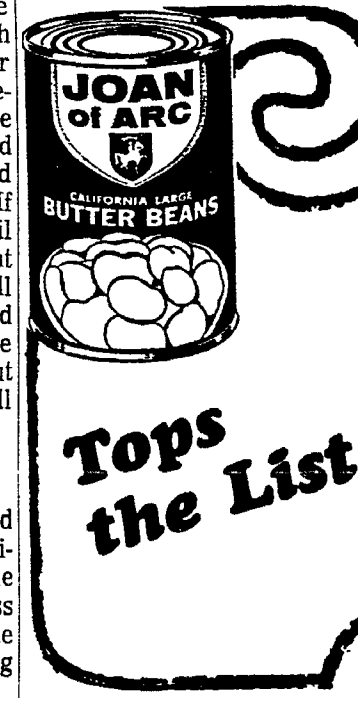

In all cases, prepare the soil as you would for a vegetable garden. Spade it a full spade deep, incorporating a 2-inch layer of compost or other humus, and 5 pounds of vegetable fertilizer per 100 square feet. Then rake it smooth and sow your seed as gently and carefully as you know how. If there is danger of the soil drying, cover it with light burlap until germination is well under way. Then remove it, and when the seedlings are large enough to handle, dig them out with a trowel and replant at full recommended width apart.

Delicious Touch

Add one unpeeled, diced Red Delicious apple to any combination of fruits in a salad. The crunchy texture and juiciness will combine well with the softer fruits, besides enhancing them.

Imaginative Dash

Homemade winter jellies may be concocted from commercial pectin and prepared fruit juices.

While on campus, she was president of Lawrence Women's Association and in her junior year, was a counselor to freshmen women. She won three literary prizes.

Fulbright Scholar

Mrs. Steiger received the Fulbright Scholarship which permitted her to study medieval literature at the University of Reading at Reading, England, in 1961-1962. Because she had this scholarship she declined another award — the Woodrow Wilson Scholarship.

While a graduate student at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, in 1961 and 1963, she did work in education. She served as an intern teacher at Woodworth Junior High School at Fond du Lac. She was a project assistant at the University of Wisconsin Extension Division at Madison in 1965 where she helped prepare a manual for law enforcement officers who work with juveniles. It was part of a juvenile delinquency control project and Janet Dempsey of Oshkosh.

Build Bench Around Large Shade Tree

A big, old shade tree is a delight in any yard. But often lawn doesn't grow well near the trunk, where large roots make soil sparse. A good solution calls for removing lawn in a three to six foot radius around the trunk, replacing grass with a hardy evergreen ground cover.

Around that, lay a border of crushed white rock or gravel contained by pressure-treated Douglas fir 2 by 4s or 4 by 4s, sunken so their top edge is at lawn level. A 4 by 4 on the lawn side makes a good mowing strip.

Where Lawn doesn't grow well around tree's trunk, replace grass with ground cover, add a seating bench of fir 2 by 4s, and path or border of crushed rock contained by treated 2 by 4s sunk into the ground.

To Your Good Health

Vaginal Repair Not Cause for Concern

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain what a vaginal repair is. Is it the same as rectocele?—Mrs. E.M.

Dear Doctor: I am 67 and have what the doctor called a mild rectocele. He told me it will never interfere with my general health but will tend to become larger as time goes on.

I hate to go into my old age with something like this, but wonder if I am too old to have this minor surgery done. I am in pretty good health but am nervous about taking a general anesthetic. Should I have it taken care of? — Mrs. M.M.

I have a good many questions from women on these topics and perhaps we can clear up some of the confusion.

A vaginal repair is an operation to correct sagging or the back wall of the vaginal canal is weak (where it is adjacent to the lower colon) we call it rectocele.

Sometimes there is enough discomfort or nuisance so the physician can be quite specific about stating the need for surgery.

In other cases — like Mrs. M.M.'s — it comes down to a matter of the likelihood of future trouble. I would rather use the expression "may get larger" instead of "will get larger" in many of these cases.

A really mild rectocele which is not presently showing signs of getting worse at the age of 67 very likely will not become much worse in the following years. The question is whether it is interfering with bowel action or causing any vaginal discomfort.

In this particular instance, I am more concerned over Mrs. M.M.'s anxiety about anesthesia than I am over the future of the rectocele. I don't like people to be unduly worried over such things — for these days a person of 67 and in reasonably good health has no cause to be alarmed over anesthesia. The improvement in anesthetics and techniques has, for the average person in the 60s and 70s and even older, eliminated nearly all of the terror that used to exist.

An added word about cystocele. If the tissues have sagged enough so the bladder permits puddling of urine and incomplete discharge of it, that situation is an invitation to infection, and bladder (and kidney) infections can be stubborn and annoying.

Therefore, the physician has considerable reason to be more outspoken in urging repair of cystocele. Whether you call it a "vaginal repair" or a "bladder repair" is a rather finicky argument, since in most cases some readjustment of both structures is involved.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told that wearing amber beads will reduce an enlarged thyroid, which is mostly sub-sternal. Do you know of any other cure? — Mrs. K.G.

The amber beads fable is nonsense. There are several effective tive treatments for enlarged thyroid, sometimes surgery, sometimes one can determine which type of treatment is best for your particular case.

Dear Dr. Molner: What would cause red lumps, like pimples, some large, some small, no pus, on the back part of the tongue down into the throat?—Mrs. B.

They don't sound like pimples to me. The likely answer is that they are enlarged papillae. The surface of the tongue is made up of these tiny buttes, or papillae. At the back of the tongue they may not be as close together, and thus look more like "a pimple."

nest . . . the sherbet is arranged on a waxed-paper lined tray, then placed in the freezer until serving time on the big day. This is the moment the colorful sherbet balls are piled into the center of the nest cake and brought to the table for immediate service.

So here they are . . . a collection of recipes for a Happy Easter.

ROAST LEG OF LAMB WITH CIDER GLAZE
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1½ cups apple cider
½ cup corn syrup
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Roast leg of lamb by placing fat side up on a rack in an open, low-sided pan. Do not add water and do not cover. Insert meat thermometer and roast in 325-degree oven until done as desired. For the six-pound roast, it takes 3 hours (170 degrees on meat thermometer) for medium, 3½ hours (180 degrees on meat thermometer) for well done. For an eight-pound roast, it takes 4 hours (170 degrees) for medium, and 4½ hours (180 degrees) for well done.

To make the cider glaze, combine cinnamon, salt and cornstarch in heavy saucepan. Add cider, corn syrup and lemon juice. Stir and cook until clear and thickened, about 5 to 7 minutes.

During the last 20 minutes of roasting for the meat, glaze leg of lamb with three-fourths cup of the cider mixture. Serve the remaining glaze as a sauce after the lamb has been sliced.

FRUIT GLAZE FOR HAM
¼ cup unsulphured molasses
¼ cup prepared mustard
¼ cup strained peach preserves

Combine molasses, mustard and preserves (apricot preserves or currant jelly may be used for peach preserves for a different flavor). Brush part of this mixture over ham about 45 minutes before meat is done. The ham should be scored and studded with cloves. Continue baking, brushing occasionally with remaining mixture.

MOLASSES-MUSTARD GLAZE
If a plain glaze is preferred, one fourth cup of prepared mustard can be blended with one-fourth cup of unsulphured molasses for a 13-pound canned ham. This half-and-half mixture can be adjusted accordingly to suit the size of the baked ham. This is about the right proportions for a 13-pound to a 15-pound smoked ham.

FRUITED PORK ROAST
1 envelope (1½ oz.) Onion Soup Mix
¾ cup water
¾ cup honey
¼ cup catsup
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons lemon rind
1 cup pitted mixed dried fruit
3 to 4-pound rib pork roast

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. In medium bowl, combine onion soup mix, water, honey, catsup, lemon juice, lemon rind, and ½ cup of dried fruit.

In Dutch oven, place pork roast. Cut deep slits between pork chops and insert two to three pieces of remaining dried fruit in each slit. Pour fruited onion sauce over roast, cover; bake 1½ to 2 hours.

Uncover roast; continue cooking an additional 45 minutes or until done, basting frequently. Recipe makes about six servings.

CHOCOLATE RAISIN LAMB CAKE
1 cup seedless raisins
2 (1-ounce) squares unsweetened chocolate
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
1½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
Chocolate Glaze

Chop raisins coarsely. Melt chocolate. Beat together shortening, sugar and vanilla. Add egg, beating until light. Stir in chocolate.

Resift flour with baking powder and salt. Blend into chocolate mixture alternately with milk. Stir in raisins. Turn into greased and floured lamb-shaped mold spreading batter to edges. Place on shallow baking pan.

Bake in 325-degree oven about 50 minutes until cake tests done. Cool cake 5 to 10 minutes in mold, then turn out onto rack. With broad pastry brush spread Chocolate Glaze over cooled cake.

CHOCOLATE GLAZE
3 tablespoons butter
1 ounce unsweetened chocolate
1½ cups sifted powdered sugar
3 tablespoons boiling water

Melt butter with chocolate over hot water (simmer but do not boil water). Beat in sifted powdered sugar and three tablespoons boiling water. This glaze thickens with standing and may be reheated over hot water to give proper spreading consistency.

EASTER NEST CAKE
24 small assorted flavor sherbet balls
1 large round angel food cake
1 can ready-to-spread lemon frosting
1 can coconut flakes, toasted

Freeze sherbet balls. Remove a ½-inch layer from center of 9-inch cake top, leaving a 1-inch rim around outside edge. Spread frosting around outside of cake and over top of rim. Gently press toasted coconut into soft frosting. At serving time: Fill "nest" with frozen sherbet balls, piling extra ones on top.

In keeping with the gladness of Easter is this delightful dessert. An angel food cake is cut down a bit to form a "nest," then it's generously iced with a soft lemon frosting. The next step is to sprinkle toasted coconut on the frosting. The last step — just before serving time — is to fill the nest with small sherbet balls of assorted colors and flavors or perhaps of rainbow hue.

Did You Ever Think of Getting Your Easter Bonnet
From A&P?

We don't sell Easter bonnets but... we suspect many an Easter hat has been paid for with money saved by shopping A&P.

Are we implying that A&P has the lowest prices on all items all the time?

No!

There is no store that can make that claim.

What we are saying is:

if you're interested in your total food bill, if you're looking for the best values for your food dollar, A&P is the store for you.

It's a little late for this year's Easter bonnet, but start shopping A&P this week, anyway.

somebody in the house will need a new pair of shoes.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P?

Far From Dead, However

Drinking Age Issue Shelved

The request of an Appleton housewife for a referendum on boosting the beer-drinking age to 21 was shelved by a city council committee Tuesday night, but the issue appeared to be far from dead.

Members of the Welfare-Ordinance Committee agreed to receive and file the request of Mrs. Warner Porlier, 1706 E. Byrd St., until this fall.

However, the disease is not at epidemic proportions.

The rundown on communicable diseases is contained in the monthly report of the health department which was reviewed at a board of health meeting this morning.

During March there were 130 cases of chicken pox reported, and April continues to reflect an increase.

There were also 31 cases of mumps.

Also included in the city's vital statistics for the past month:

- Eight illegitimate births were reported.
- There were 166 births at Appleton's two hospitals.
- Heart disease continued to be the leading killer, followed by cancer.

Optimism in Mason's Strike

Mediators Press for Negotiations

Federal and state mediators were pressing today for further union-management talks in an effort to end a 20-county strike by masons which has crippled major construction.

There appeared to be veiled optimism the walkout of bricklayers and cement finishers might be resolved by the weekend if both parties get back to the bargaining table.

Phillip Simon, Green Bay, of the U.S. Mediation and Conciliation Service, and Don Lee, Madison, representing the Wisconsin Employment Relations Commission (WERC), were attempting to arrange a meeting of the disputants, The Post-Crescent learned.

Talks broke-off more than a week ago and the masons went out on strike Monday to push demands for a new three-year contract.

All other unions have been honoring picket lines from Fond du Lac, north to the Upper Michigan line, resulting in millions of dollars of projects grinding to a halt.

There are six locals of bricklayers and cement finishers directly involved in the new contract dispute with the Fox River Valley Contractors Association.

Since the old three-year contract expired April 1, wages have represented the main issue in the dispute.

Merle Phelan, Fond du Lac, resident of the contractors' organization, said as of this morning there were no new developments. "It is my understanding that a meeting will be set up soon," Phelan disclosed.

Possible Meeting

"I've heard nothing yet except rumors of a possible meeting," was the comment of Emil St. John, Kaukauna, bargaining representative for Appleton Local 10.

However, he said the union had stated previously it would be available for resumption of negotiations.

The unions are reportedly asking increases which would add up to $1.97 over a three-year period while the contractors' final offer was $1.35.

A trades union spokesman claimed the Fox Valley rates are running about 48 cents per hour below those in effect in the Madison region and more than $1 lower than Milwaukee region rates.

Simon and Lee were called in to mediate the dispute recently when it became obvious the union and contractor bargainers were having problems in arriving at a new contract.

Situation Discussed

The state and federal mediators discussed the strike situation within the past 24 hours and were reportedly in touch with the parties by noon.

Neither the union or the contractor's association would issue a statement in keeping with a previous agreement made when contract deliberations started sometime ago.

There has been considerable pressure on negotiators for both sides because the outcome of contract talks will reflect a pattern for future bargaining between other trade unions and the Teamsters with the association.

Contracts with the other unions expire June 1.

$75,000 Bond Set for Former Fox Cities Man

Bank Robber Suspect Held in Chicago Awaiting Warrant

A former resident of Kaukauna and Appleton who was arrested in Chicago Tuesday for his alleged role in the $9,672 armed robbery of the Sherwood State Bank last Oct. 30 is being held in Chicago under $75,000 bond.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents arrested Harold Edward Morefield, 46, near his southside Chicago home. U.S. Commissioner James T. Balog of Chicago today set bond and remanded Morefield to jail pending arrival of officers with a bench warrant for his removal to Milwaukee to face arraignment.

Morefield had been indicted by a Federal Grand Jury in Milwaukee, where a bench warrant was issued last week.

Local police said today that Morefield lived in the Fox Cities from last summer until early this year. He reportedly roomed at an E. Wisconsin Avenue address in Appleton, and at 2500 S. Sullivan St., in Kaukauna. It was learned this morning.

Ayers Urges Discussions on City-County Safety Building

Proposed Structure Would House Combined Jails, Police Stations

Appleton may need a new police station in the not-too-distant future, it was predicted Tuesday, as the City Council President John Ayers (12th) urged talks with Outagamie County officials on a combined safety building.

"I think it won't be long and something will have to materialize in the way of a new police station and jail," Ayers told the public safety committee, of which he is chairman.

Committee members held informal discussion and were in accord that representatives of the Outagamie County Board be contacted in the near future in an effort to get some joint planning underway.

Convey Message

Ald. Arthur Hoolihan (11th), who is also a county board member, said he would convey the message back to the county's public property and insurance committee.

Hoolihan said the county committee has been discussing plans for new jail facilities and also broached the subject of possibly getting together with Appleton.

Ayers said the city and county should appoint a joint committee to look into constructing a safety building on a site in the vicinity of the courthouse.

Jones Park and an adjacent area have been earmarked in the city's comprehensive plan layout for a civic center which would consist of city, county, state and federal buildings.

Combined city-county buildings (safety buildings) have been growing in popularity in Wisconsin and the country in general.

In the Fox Valley, Fond du Lac was the first to have a safety building outside of Milwaukee. It quarters city and county police, jail and several administrative offices.

Planners have indicated that with Appleton and Outagamie County both thinking of new law enforcement facilities, the time may be ripe for planning a combined facility.

Dryer Overheats

Appleton firemen were summoned to the Gerald Bolwerk home, 1002 W. Oklahoma St., at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday when a clothes dryer motor overheated.

Four Appleton business leaders and an attorney were elected Tuesday night to the board of directors of the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce.

Olson served the past year as Chamber treasurer.

The directors were declared elected at the annual Chamber meeting at the Conway Hotel. They will serve three-year terms. The board has 15 directors, five of which are elected annually.

Oscar C. Boldt, Chamber president, was honored at the meeting with a special plaque for his outstanding service as the group's leader the past year. The presentation was made by Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, vice president and master of ceremonies.

Gein Case May Go To Supreme Court

Defense Counsel Wants Answer On 1957 Warrants Before Trial

BY BILL KNUTSON Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUTOMA — Ed Gein appeared in Waushara County Court on murder and robbery charges more than 10 years ago. By the end of this week, his case, which is sprouting into the predicted legal nightmare, could be in the Wisconsin Supreme Court.

And, as the legal maneuvering moves forward, the accused plaintiff man's trial date moves back ward. Attorneys were talking two months ago of an April trial. Tuesday they talked of trial in June — or later.

Meanwhile, Gein, 61-year-old bachelor recluse accused of slaying Mrs. Bernice Worden and taking a cash register from her Plainfield hardware store Nov. 16, 1957, remains in jail at Oshkosh without bond. He was released from Central State Hospital, Waupun, last January after being confined for 10 years on a commitment from circuit court.

He has been declared mentally competent to stand trial. Mrs. Worden's nude, decapitated body was found in a shack on his property, as were portions of bodies of several other women.

Legal Question

Milwaukee attorney Dominic Frinzi, one of two-court appointed defense lawyers, said at a pre-trial motions hearing Tuesday that he would ask the State Supreme Court to restrain further proceedings in Circuit Court here, pending settlement of a question concerning the validity of the criminal complaints and warrants charging Gein in 1957.

Frinzi, in the first of several pre-trial motions Tuesday, sought dismissal of the charges on grounds that a 1965 Supreme Court decision invalidates warrants and complaints issued solely on information and belief, without citing the sources of information.

In the 1965 decision, the high court outlawed the practice of Wisconsin district attorneys issuing warrants. The court held that warrants can be issued only by a magistrate after a hearing in which sufficient evidence

Chamber Annual Meeting Business Must Create More Jobs, Says Allis-Chalmers Head

"One key to solving this nation's crisis in its cities lies in the 'offices of each responsible (business) man and woman,' the president of Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., said in Appleton Tuesday night.

To meet this crisis, business people must direct their energies to creating 'jobs first,' he urged. This can be the only successful approach to a war on poverty.

The speaker, W. G. Scholl, was addressing about 300 people at the 47th annual Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce banquet at the Conway Hotel.

Scholl ended his warning on a note of optimism. He recalled the United States is still economically No. 1, adding that "many of our problems stem from commitments to other countries.

"We are going to have to establish priorities," he said. Scholl suggested this nation will have "a position of strength" in the future which Americans do not even realize today.

However, he did not discount the seriousness of today's crises — in America's cities and in Vietnam. He called the war in southeastern Asia most "confusing," and recounted President Johnson's March 31 speech that Vietnam had caused a "division in our country."

Hanoi's apparent willingness to talk may have turned us around the corner in Vietnam, but it will be a long time before that problem is solved. "We have a long way to come back," he said.

Scholl emphasized the crisis in the cities may be a "little closer to Appleton than you realize." He lauded Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) efforts to face urban problems on a united front.

Complex Problems

"But we must remember, urban problems are complex," he warned.

He outlined the growing crisis. The United States needed 300 years to accumulate its first 100 million population, 52 years for its second 100 million and will take about 30 for its third, he said.

Two of three persons live in the cities, and 98 per cent of the 1950-66 population increase came in the cities. The poor uneducated migrant searching for a better standard of living has stimulated the growth of our cities, and large birth rates in our slums is perpetuating and

Railroad False Alarms Ring Out in Neenah

NEENAH — The Public Protection Committee Tuesday agreed to ask the Department of Public Works to find out how often trains block the W. Cecil Street crossings and how many autos are delayed in a weekday period from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

In a letter dated March 22, Wayne Bryan, public works director, reminded the committee that a 1966 study revealed that the crossing signals at Cecil Street "operated 258 minutes and two seconds (in a 16-hour check) during which time

Residential Construction Rises Sharply

22 Permits Issued In Appleton During March for $400,000

Residential construction rose sharply in Appleton during March in keeping with a national trend.

Building Inspector Richard Atkins issued 22 permits for new homes, the estimated construction totaling $400,000.

"It was a better March than a year ago," Atkins commented. "The picture looks good here."

Permits Issued

The first week in April another six permits were issued for new dwellings but the strike of bricklayers and cement finishers could have an adverse effect on the local picture.

Atkins said new construction here last month amounted to $779,829 — the best monthly showing this year.

In January the total was $213,837 with only two residential starts, while February had $420,190 in construction, including five homes.

Construction Cost

The city's three-month construction total is $1,413,856.

While home building has been spurting, overall construction has not been keeping pace with the past year.

Permits were issued for 10 commercial projects last month adding up to $354,600.

The April building total should be up appreciably with Appleton Mills having started construction of a new million dollar plant in the industrial park.

there was a train on the crossing only 90 minutes and 9 seconds.

Thus, Bryan continued, 65 per cent of the time the signals were operating, there was no railroad traffic on the roadway.

The 1966 summary also showed that 20.6 per cent of the total motor vehicle traffic was delayed at the crossings.

Crossing data for the Chicago & Northwestern and Soo Line railroads were lumped together.

Bryan wrote that "It should be possible for the railroads to use more sophisticated equipment." He added this would "eliminate a great deal of the so-called false ringing which leads the motorists to lose respect for the crossing protection."

Bryan also suggested in his letter that the information taken from a new study would give the committee "some backing to insist that an improvement in reducing the amount of time the signals operate when there is no immediate danger to traffic."

Perhaps both railroads, he added, "could get together" to control signals from one manually operated point as the Soo Line does now at the Winneconne Avenue crossing.

Though he has made no report yet, Neenah attorney Frank Templeton was authorized by the committee on March 12 to proceed with crossing problem research on a voluntary basis.

Homestead Relief Deadline April 15

Persons desiring assistance in filing their 1967 Wisconsin income tax or homestead relief returns are reminded that the final date for filing such returns is Monday, April 15.

The Appleton district office of the State Department of Revenue, in the courthouse annex, 401 S. Elm St., will be open from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday, to provide assistance. The office will be closed after 11:45 a.m. on Good Friday.

Alice in Dairyland Contest Draws 140

MADISON (AP) — The State Department of Agriculture reported today that entries in the 1968 Alice in Dairyland contest total 140. April 15 is the entry closing date.

This year's winner will be named in the finals at Burlington June 13-15.

The Science Fair at St. John High School took on new meaning this year as students were required to explain their projects in short prepared speeches for the audience. Formerly projects were explained in a written report, often too lengthy to be read by visitors.

Miss Burg Seeks Dem Post

WEST BEND — Miss Mary Lou Burg, long active in state and local Democratic Party affairs, announced today she plans to oppose Mrs. Jeanette Swed, Milwaukee, for the post of national committeewoman, representing Wisconsin party views on the Democratic National Committee.

Miss Burg said an aim of her campaign is to "restore the importance and vitality" of the post, which she said "has been steadily losing its importance in the past 10 years."

Her activities in the party date back to 1962 and currently include membership on the executive committee of the Sixth Congressional District party organization, which includes the Neenah-Menasha area.

Miss Burg has been Washington County party chairman since 1966 and currently is a member-at-large of the state party administrative committee. She is an executive of a local radio station.

The national committee post will be filled at the state convention in Milwaukee June 7 and 8.

In announcing her candidacy, Miss Burg raised three issues on which she said she will campaign for votes among the delegates to the state convention.

She charged that too few Democratic National Committee actions are initiated by the 100 committee men and women representing the state party units, including Wisconsin's, coming instead from executives appointed by the committee.

She also said there should be more "detailed and careful" reporting of national party campaign spending and operating costs to the state party members.

Miss Burg further charged that the national committee too often makes decisions that are reported back to local party members by the national committee representatives, but she said too seldom do the state spokesmen relay recommendations of local members to the national body for adoption in the form of policies, positions or platforms.

Youth to Face Battery Charges

George Popp, 18, 141 N. Lawe St., Neenah, pleaded innocent Tuesday to a battery charge brought in connection with the alleged beating of a Menasha youth March 25.

Outagamie County Judge Raymond P. Dohr set trial for June 13 and ordered bond of $100.

Dan Schmanski, 727 First St., Menasha, in his complaint, alleged that he was beaten by Popp at the Country Aire Club, in the Town of Grand Chute. The complaint alleged that Popp kicked Schmanski in the face, causing injuries to his right eye and chin.

On Holy Thursday Parish Plans Paschal Meal

It was while the Israelites were still in the land of Egypt that the Lord made a covenant to deliver the people of Israel from bondage, which was sanctified in a meal.

This meal, will be relived in a St. Mary Catholic parish Paschal meal at 6 p.m. Thursday, the first such meal in the area.

It will precede an 8 p.m. Holy Thursday mass, which is considered the Paschal meal of the New Testament. It was through Christ's sacrifice that the old was replaced with the new.

The purpose of this unique celebration is to help the people of the congregation gain a deeper realization of the mass, according to the Rev. Richard Meneau, assistant pastor of St. Mary in charge of the meal.

"By experiencing a situation similar to the Last Supper, we hope to gain new insights into the joyous meal situation which Christ intends the mass to be," he explained.

More than 300 are expected to participate in the family meal, which will be as traditionally correct as possible.

Wine from a common bowl, symbolizing unity; lamb, signifying sacrifice; unleavened bread, (matzo) the bread of affliction; bitter herbs dipped in salt water, symbolic of the tears and sorrow which the Jewish people suffered in Egypt, and mortar, symbol of the material used to build the pyramids in Egypt, will be served.

Customs, too, will be observed. The priest will bless every food before it is eaten. A part of that custom is used in the church today during the offertory.

Light Candles

The mother at each table will light the candle, according to an ancient Jewish custom. For the Jews this symbolizes the coming of the Messiah; for Christians it serves as a reminder of Christ's constant presence.

According to the Book of Exodus, an unblemished male lamb was sacrificed. Blood was sprinkled on the doorway. The meat that night was roasted over the fire; bread was unleavened; wild herbs were unseasoned.

"It is the passover of the Lord. For on this same night I will go through Egypt . . . I, the Lord . . . this day will be a memorial feast for you, which all your generations shall celebrate with pilgrimage to the Lord as a perpetual institution."

New Life

Through this meal, the Jewish people not only remembered the event, they relived it. By annual celebration of this, they became sharers in the central experience whereby the Lord had delivered them from bondage. He had passed over their houses, sparing them from death but more than this. He had set them on the path to a new way of life.

It was this principal feast of the chosen people that Christ chose to make the central feast of the Christian community.

"The mass, in a very real sense, is the paschal meal of the New Testament. The Lamb of God sacrificed Himself on the cross for our deliverance; He changed the unleavened bread into his own Body and in blessing the wine, gave his own blood to drink," Father Meneau explained.

Helping Father Meneau are Mr. and Mrs. Robert May, co-chairmen for the Paschal meal.

Scarcity of Teen Summer Jobs Predicted

NEENAH — "We have a feeling that there will be fewer jobs available this summer for Neenah-Menasha youths," Dan Eisch said Tuesday.

Eisch, Wisconsin State Employment Service (WSES) counselor and co-chairman of an employment campaign to be known as Youth Employment Service for Menasha and Neenah Youth. "YES for MANY," spoke to three representatives of the Neenah High School Student Council at the WSES office.

Speaking for the Neenah-Menasha Jaycees and as campaign co-chairman was Louis Redmann. Redmann said it will be "necessary to develop jobs" for young people if the many who want work are to have some employment during the summer months.

Redmann and Eisch invited student council members and officers from the three Twin City high schools to discuss how an effective employment campaign could be waged.

Both men were "disappointed" at the small turnout.

days in jail this morning after he pleaded guilty to a public intoxication charge brought after Appleton police found him at Superior Street and College Avenue about 2:40 a.m. today.

Schadt appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Development Approved for Neenah's Swatscheno Area

NEENAH — "Operation Greenspace" passed the first hurdle Tuesday when the plan commission agreed the proposals for developing the Swatscheno site were on the right track.

But, while the park and recreation commission was encouraged with the approval, members were startled to discover the city might have to pick up the entire bill.

The tab could run in excess of $1.2 million before the long-range plan is completed. City officials had believed federal funds would help in the development of the 100 acres on Neenah's southwest side.

Arno Haering Jr., of the Fox Valley Council of Governments, pointed out the Swatscheno development wouldn't qualify for aid from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) since the property wasn't purchased with HUD assistance. LAWCON funds, administered by the state conservation department, could be made available, Haering said, but added the amount would be "very little."

"We're being penalized," Mayor Carl Loehning remarked, noting the city had paid for the entire 160-acre Swatscheno farm back in 1962 out of its own pocket.

Some 60 acres are set aside for school purposes and a portion of the land now holds Conant Junior High School with the remainder earmarked for a new high school.

The council, by a 7-2 vote on March 6, turned over the 100 acres to the park and recreation commission for development.

that Morefield worked at the Appleton plant from Oct. 18 to Feb. 15.

He reportedly stayed for a short time with Robert D. Mitchell, 37, whom FBI agents arrested in Sheboygan Feb. 19 for the Feb. 16 armed robbery of the Howards Grove (Sheboygan County) State Bank. Mitchell, who is in jail in Waukesha County, also lived in Appleton and Kaukauna late last year and early this year.

Calumet County Sheriff Irvan Vice said this morning that Morefield became a suspect during investigation following the Howards Grove bank robbery which netted about $10,000.

Identified Photographs

Vice said today that employees of the Sherwood State Bank, who were working at the time of the Oct. 30 robbery, recently identified photographs of the lone gunman. The pictures were shown the bank employees after the Howards Grove robbery, Vice explained. He has been working closely with the FBI on the bank robberies, as have Outagamie County authorities.

Although a lone gunman held up the Sherwood State Bank about closing time on Oct. 30, it is believed another person may have been involved by driving the getaway car.

The gunman entered the bank, while four women employees were getting ready to close. The gunman wore a black glove on his left hand, and appeared nervous. He fled in a late-model car parked outside the bank, on State 114.

Witnesses had described the holdup man as being about 50 years old and "seedy-looking."

Vice said today that to his knowledge, none of the $9,672 was recovered.

20-Year Sailor Retires at 37

"I'm not retired. I'm just changing careers."

That is Richard Albrecht's description of his retirement from the Navy at the age of 37 after 20 years service.

Albrecht, who was raised in Appleton, is spending two weeks with his mother, Mrs. George Albrecht, 822½ W. Harris St. His visit is part of an extended vacation trip that he and his wife, Flora, are taking before settling down in the Pacific northwest.

Albrecht was a senior chief quartermaster and holds the Secretary of the Navy's Achievement Award. He shipped to every part of the world during his term of service, including two tours to Vietnam aboard aircraft carriers.

Business Must Work Hard to Create Jobs

augmenting the crisis, he warned.

"Scholl urged the coalition of business, government, church, school and other segments of society to combat our internal strife. 'We can all win or all lose, including businessmen,' he said of the need to meet America's poverty.

Plowing Profits

The sound old business advice of "plowing profits back into developing the business may need some updating," Scholl said. "Today it is more a case of 'plowing profits back into developing people.'"

He said business people must train and hire the unemployed, and suggested a two-level program — first, to provide for the usual workforce, and to find ways to screen in job applicants without destroying existing valid job standards.

"In this way alone will we be able to buy the time required for the better formal training programs and in-service job training for the young people not now in the labor force," he said.

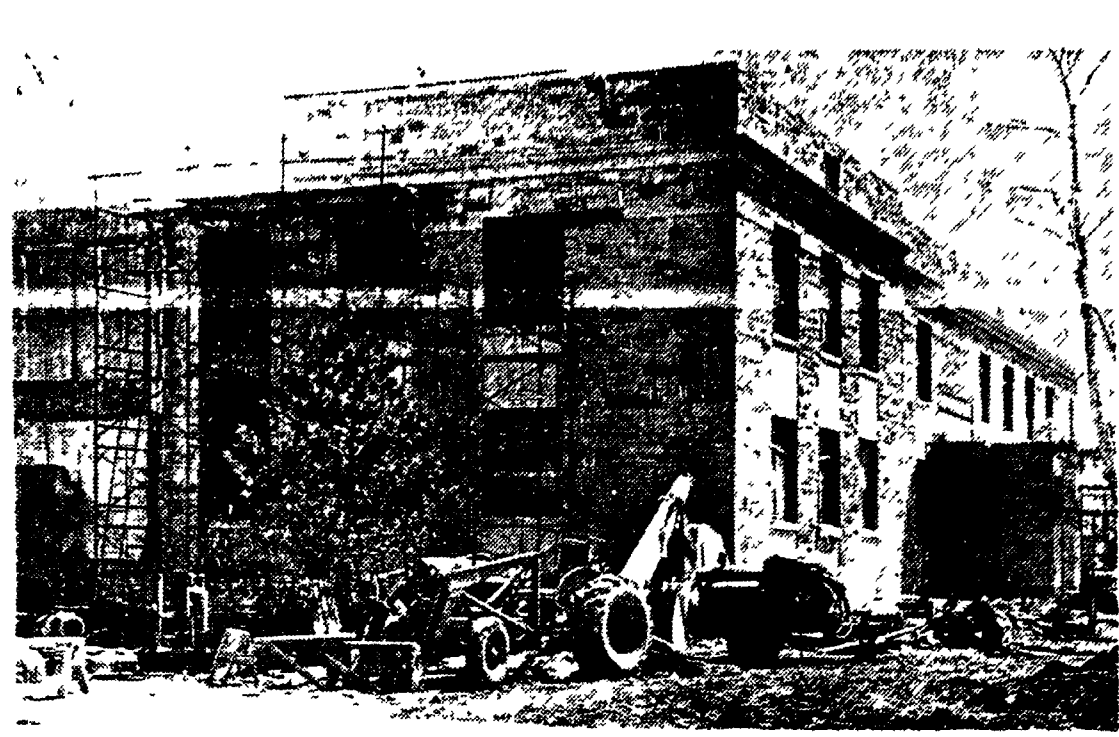

Scholl noted a bewildering array of national and local problems facing today's businessmen.

Many Problems

"The gold crisis, the dollar's soundness, the inflationary force of deficit spending, ever-increasing wage demands, long-term erosion of profits — you name it and I'm sure it could be found in Pandora's box of national problems," he said.

He noted that inflation "is no longer poking its greedy mouth around the corner. It's here." A U.S. Labor Department report recently indicated consumer prices again rose 3-10 of 1 percent, marking the 13th consecutive monthly rise, he said.

Scholl claimed a poorly planned blend of fiscal and monetary policies aggravated the nation's economic stability. Monetary restraint failed to solve the problem, he said.

Gein Case May be Headed For State Supreme Court

Frinzi, who is being aided by Wautoma attorney William Belter, contended that the late Waushara County Dist. Atty. Earl Kileen's complaints and warrants did not meet present Supreme Court tests. He said the warrants were defective because no evidence was taken 10 years ago, prior to their issuance.

Circuit Judge Robert Gollmar of Baraboo denied Frinzi's motion for dismissal and a subsequent motion for immediate adjournment of the hearing to allow for the Supreme Court review.

Frinzi told reporters he would attempt later this week to get the issue before the supreme court. He said his petition will be based on the ground that Gein is facing the court on the actual charges for the first time now, and the question of jurisdiction must be settled before any further action is taken. The attorney maintained that court appearances 10 years ago related only to his mental competency.

Frinzi declined to speculate on how long it would take the supreme court to render a decision should the court decide to hear the issue. The high court could refuse to hear it, and send it back to circuit court here.

Judge Gollmar set April 24 as the tentative date for resumption of the hearing on pre-trial motions, some of which will involve testimony by both state and defense witnesses. Several witnesses were in court Tuesday, but were not called to testify.

Frinzi indicated he would be in Europe for much of May, and Gollmar said that his schedule would not permit trial before June. He declined even to set a tentative trial date, pending further motions, one of which could involve a change of venue (to another county).

Frinzi submitted several motions after that for dismissal, Tuesday, and indicated he would have several more, "but they're premature at this time."

Judge Gollmar said he would take under advisement the following motions by Frinzi:

Defense Motions

—Dismissal on grounds that there was insufficient evidence at a Feb. 21 preliminary hearing for Marquette County Judge Andrew Cotter to bind Gein over to Circuit Court for trial.

—A demand upon the state to turn over to the defense all statements, admissions, and confessions, and all reports on physical evidence examined by the state crime laboratory.

Frinzi said that on April 24 he will submit motions to suppress physical evidence collected through a search of Gein's property, and to suppress all alleged confessions, statements, or admissions. He indicated he will call witnesses to support his motions.

Unlike earlier court appearances, there was a mere handful of spectators in the courtroom here Tuesday. Judge Gollmar, upon observing the marked reduction in the number of newsmen in the jury box, quipped, "It seems interest is diminishing."

Frinzi, making his first Gein case court appearance since his defeat as a Milwaukee judge candidate, was asked if he was optimistic about a possible settlement without the case going to trial.

He replied, "We will use every constitutional means to defend him. We will make sure he has his day in court. No more; no less."

Defense attorneys have indicated that should the trial be without a jury, they probably would not ask that it be held outside Waushara County.

C. J. Kosmosky Eyes Return to Sheriff's Office

Former Calumet Lawman Announces GOP Candidacy

CHILTON — C. J. Kosmosky, 61, who along with his wife became the second oldest active man-and-wife sheriff team in the history of the state before retiring in 1966, announced Tuesday he will seek election as Calumet County sheriff on the Republican ticket.

Kosmosky is expected to oppose Sheriff Irvin Vice, also a Republican, in the September primary election. Vice, however, had not formally announced his candidacy.

Kosmosky, who presently

C. J. Kosmosky

serves as court bailiff for Calumet County, said "I have been influenced by friends and acquaintances to run for office."

The former sheriff, and his wife, Lucille, completed 16 successive years in the office on Jan. 1, 1967.

The record string began in January, 1951 when Kosmosky took office for the first time, defeating incumbent Sheriff Ted Pagel.

Kosmosky was a county patrolman for nine years before he became a candidate for sheriff in 1950.

Mrs. Kosmosky retained the office of sheriff for the family by becoming the first successful woman campaigner for sheriff in the county's history by winning the 1954 election. She won again in 1960.

At the time the Kosmoskys were in office state statutes prohibited sheriffs from running for re-election after serving two successive two-year terms.

Affidavit of Prejudice Is Filed on Judge

Ex-Chicago Police Officer Charged in 1st Degree Murder

FOND DU LAC (AP) — An affidavit of prejudice was filed Monday against Fond du Lac County Judge Hazen W. McEsky by a former Chicago police officer charged with first degree murder.

McEsky had denied three motions to dismiss the charge.

He said the assignment of another judge to hear the case of Chester Dombrowski, 30, would be referred to State Court Administrator Edwin Wilkie.

Dombrowski was indicted by a Fond du Lac County grand jury in the September, 1967, death of Herbert McKinney, 27, also of Chicago.

McKinney, beaten and shot in the head, was found dead in a farm field near Kewaskum. Authorities said the farm is owned by a brother of Dombrowski.

McEsky denied motions alleging that Dombrowski had been denied a speedy trial, that the grand jury was improperly constituted in that a county investigator was permitted to sit in during the jury's investigation, and that there was no evidence or basis for the indictment.

He also denied an alternative motion that would have permitted defense attorneys Robert Gordon of West Bend and David Leichtfuss of Milwaukee to inspect grand jury minutes.

Dombrowski, who has not yet been formally arraigned or entered a plea, is free on $5,000 bond.

If your stockbroker doesn't make sure that you have taken care of life insurance, get yourself another broker.

Before you move into securities investment, you should protect yourself and the people who depend upon you. And that means life insurance.

The first question most people ask is "How much life insurance?" One investment counselor says a man should own an amount roughly equal to five times his annual salary. A survey of thousands of families showed the following needs:

MONTHLY TAKE-HOME PAY	INSURANCE NEEDED
$ 450	$24,000
500	28,000
600	36,000
1,000	64,000

But honestly, there's no pat answer.

It all depends.

First, you need enough to cover burial expenses.

Then if you've got kids, you're faced with a dependency period, the time it takes your youngest to reach eighteen years old. You should have enough life insurance and other income to be sure your youngest child and the others will be fed, clothed, housed and educated like you want them to be.

Another use of life insurance is to leave your survivors without a lot of debts.

And a man usually wants to provide his wife with income that allows her to live like she has become accustomed.

These are the basics of life insurance; based on need.

After you've carefully checked your life insurance, look over your health, auto and home insurance. You could become sick, flat on your back for six months; so look into disability income, too.

How much insurance? Really, it all depends.

We want to be sure that you've got protection. So on your first visit with The Milwaukee Company, our broker won't push a security at you. He'll ask some solid questions which will lead to a financial survey.

You may need securities that grow quickly in value, or the kind that yield stable income, or a combination of these characteristics. So this survey does three things: outlines your financial situation; tells you if you can afford investment securities and estimates the amount; provides information for setting up financial goals.

Our telephone number is 414/739-6311, or stop in at our office at 301 First National Bank Building, Appleton.

4 Students Will Hold Recital in Lawrence Chapel

Three Appleton students and a fourth from Manitowoc are among instrumentalists who will appear on a public recital at 3 p.m. Thursday in Lawrence University's Memorial Chapel.

Featured performers will be organist Paul Emmons, 209 E. Hancock St., tuba player Gary Woelm, Elm Grove. Both are conservatory juniors.

Woelm will be assisted by a woodwind quintet composed of flutist Nancy Jayne, 124 Baldwin Ct.; John Barta, 622 N. Division St.; French hornist

Peter Schmalz, Manitowoc; clarinetist Dennis Young, Des Plaines, Ill.; and bassoonist John Sutte, Delafield.

Pianist Included

Also on the program is pianist Max Radloff, Milan, Mo.

Emmons, an organ student of Conservatory Dean LaVahn Maesch, will play J. S. Bach "Prelude and Fugue in A Minor;" and "Chorale in A Minor," by Cesar Franck.

Woelm will be joined by Radloff in the "Concerto for Tuba and Piano," by Robert A. Spillman; and by the five wind players in "Suite Concertante for Tuba and Woodwind Quintet," by Armand Russel. Woelm

Actress Beth Brickell, 5-foot 3-inch blonde, has to work hard to upstage three 7-foot bears in the "Gentle Ben" television series. Although only one bear is in the story plot, it takes three of the animals to keep up with this modern day Goldilocks and her shooting schedule. (AP Wirephoto)

Thalberg Award Goes to Director Alfred Hitchcock

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Last week Gregory Peck placed a telephone call to his one-time director, Alfred Hitchcock.

"Hitch," said the actor, who

is president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. "I'm pleased to inform you that the board of governors has voted you the Thalberg Award. We all feel that this is something that has been long overdue."

After expressing his pleasure with the honor, the director responded in the typical Hitchcock manner: "You know, Greg, this is the sort of thing they give you just before you die."

Honor Long Overdue

The still-lively Alfred Hitchcock will appear at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium tonight to claim his Irving G. Thalberg Award "for consistent high level of productions."

The event will make amends for a long-time oversight.

Hitchcock has been nominated four times for the directorial Oscar — "Rebecca" (1940), "Spellbound" (1945), "Rear Window" (1954) and "Psycho" (1960) But, as he points out, he has "always been the bridesmaid." Even in 1940, when "Rebecca" was chosen best picture, the director's award went to John Ford for "Grapes of Wrath."

Honors have come late to Hitchcock. Last month the Directors Guild of America gave him the cherished D. W. Griffith

Froehlich Not Opposed to State Lease

MADISON (AP)—Most objections that Assembly Speaker Harold R. Froehlich had to the state's lease of a proposed 14 award for his long list of film achievements. And his work is the subject of a penetrating new book in which he was interviewed by his fan, Frenchman Francois Truffaut.

Wednesday, April 10, 1968 story office building on Madison's west side have been dropped, he said Monday, adding that he will not fight the proposal in court.

Froehlich, R Appleton, one of two legislators who had opposed the idea, said that circumstances have altered his position although he is "not happy with a 10 year lease in that area."

Sen. Fred Risser is still considering court action to block the lease. The Madison Democrat said it violates the intent of the Legislature which passed a law last year that the state could not build any more offices outside the Capitol Square area.

Lease Signed

The lease was signed Friday. The state will rent the "Pyare Square" Building from two Madison developers at a cost of more than $350,000 a year. Occupancy is scheduled for the summer of 1969.

Froehlich contends that "in spirit, it's a violation" of the law. "But I have grave doubts whether it is a technical violation," he said.

Move Reported Possible As Test of N. Vietnam's Willingness to Negotiate

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Johnson announced receipt of a formal message from Hanoi, replying to his own earlier communication to the North Vietnamese government. In disclosing Tuesday that he had dispatched yet another message to North Vietnam, Johnson said the two adversaries in the Vietnam war were "discussing a number of alternative locations" for preliminary talks "which could be convenient to both sides."

Dr. King's Funeral

It Was a Long Day

By KATHRYN JOHNSON ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — For the family of Martin Luther King Jr. the day began with a visit from Mrs. John F. Kennedy. It ended with the father leaning his head against his son's crypt and weeping. Mrs. King had sat dry-eyed throughout the brief graveside ceremony but when her husband's body was placed in the crypt, she began weeping silently. The Rev. King Sr. had sat with tears streaming down his face. After the body was put in, he put his gray head down on the crypt and wept openly. It had been a long day. It began for Mrs. King with whispered words of comfort from Mrs. Kennedy, who could perhaps understand her grief better than any other.

Stays in Seclusion Mrs. King had risen early to greet her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Obediah Scott from Marion County, Ala. After that, she remained in seclusion in her bedroom. Preparing for the day, she applied makeup to her mother's face, while friends and relatives ran around making beds, serving coffee, preparing food and dressing her children. Bernice, a bright-eyed 5-year old, spilled juice on her white dress and it had to be washed out and ironed hurriedly. During the funeral services, Mrs. King sat with her face veiled and her head erect. Afterward, she and the rest of the family joined the march of thousands as the casket reached Morehouse College. The widow managed to retain her composure throughout. But when the crypt was closed she lowered her head and sobbed softly. It was the end of a long day.

Rights Bill Passage Expected in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The move that would have permitted a House vote on sending the bill to conference. Anderson said his mail was running two to one against the bill's open housing provision and said he realized his joining the Democrats would make him politically unpopular. "But I don't feel isolated at all," he said. "This is a bipartisan matter."

He said pressure from both in and out of Congress "has been as much on this measure as I encountered in my eight years in Congress."

Only one hour had been allotted for debate before the voting begins. But with many delaying devices available to opponents, it could be late today before the issue is settled. Provisions in the bill, particularly the open-housing section, have been the subject of talk for nearly two years in both the House and Senate. In 1966 the House passed an open-housing bill but the Senate refused to take it up. Two other sections of the bill, one designed to protect civil rights workers and the other to make inciting a riot a federal crime, passed the House last year. The bill would also extend the protections of the Bill of Rights to American Indians. The only housing that would be exempt from the law when it's fully operative would be single-family housing sold or rented by the owner without the aid of any real-estate broker; dwellings with four or fewer units, if the owner lives in one of them, and housing operated by religious organizations or private clubs.

100,000 Allied Troops Begin Hunt for Enemy

Biggest Operation Of War Centered Around Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — More than 100,000 troops of five nations fanned out today over the Saigon area and 11 provinces around the capital in the biggest allied offensive of the war. Only light, scattered action was reported, and a general lull in the ground fighting in Vietnam continued for the second day. The U.S. Command announced that the big new sweep around the capital, Operation Toan Thang, or Complete Victory, began Monday. Its objective is the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops who got away from the 50,000 American and South Vietnamese troops in Operation Quyet Thang, or Resolved to Win. Sweep of 5 Provinces U.S. headquarters announced Tuesday that Quyet Thang; a sweep of five provinces around Saigon, had ended with 2,658 enemy killed. But when it began early in March, a force of 13,000 Viet Cong and units of two North Vietnamese regiments were reported maneuvering around the capital, possibly for a renewal of the Tet offensive against the city. U.S. spokesmen explained that Quyet Thang and all other allied operations in the 3rd Corps area terminated Sunday, and all allied forces which had been participating in them began in Toan Thang on Monday. "Continuation" Brig. Gen. Winant Sidle, chief information officer for the U.S. Command, said Toan Thang is "only a continuation of what we were doing. It is designed to clear the enemy out and keep them on the run."

Ferry Capsizes, 150 Dead in New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — An ocean-going ferry with 614 aboard ran aground at Wellington harbor's mouth today and capsized in one of the fiercest storms in New Zealand's history. Officials feared 150 drowned. With winds of up to 123 miles an hour lashing the seas into high waves, the 8,944-ton ferry Wahine keeled over and dumped passengers and crew into the icy water. A rescue armada of small boats dared the high waves and plucked many survivors from the water. Others escaped in lifeboats. Searchers reported 42 bodies had been picked up, either in the water or along three miles of shore stretching from the harbor entrance. Wellington hospitals were packed with survivors suffering from injuries or exposure. Other survivors were in private homes. As night fell and searchlights swept the dark seas, officials said more than 100 passengers and crew were unaccounted for. Most survivors said that there was no panic when the Wahine hit and shoal or even when the ferry began to keel over. Hilda Quinn said, however, there was chaos in the lounge, where many women and children were waiting. "Women were running around calling for their children," she continued. "This is when they got separated. Tilted Right Over" "It was terrible. The ship was tilting right over. To get to the boats we just sat down and slid to the rail, where men helped us in the boats. They were lifting little kiddies over the side and dropping them into a boat. My sister and I grabbed a baby each."

The Wahine, owned by the Union Steamship Co., hit a rocky shoal about 7 a.m. just inside Wellington Harbor as she neared the end of her daily 11-hour run up the east coast of New Zealand's South Island from Christchurch to Wellington, at the southern tip of North Island. While gales of up to 123 miles an hour made the sea boil around her, the Wahine freed herself from the shoal and anchored about a mile offshore with a hole in her hull. A tug got a line aboard but it snapped. An hour later the engineroom was flooded and the ferry rapidly listed to starboard. The order to abandon ship was given. A steward reported the evacuation started in an orderly manner, with women and children going off first. But the ship capsized and went under as passengers and crewmen were still jumping from here. The storm blew itself out and the sea calmed, leaving a strong tidal rip in the cold winter waters. Meanwhile, an armada of lifeboats and small craft combed the area, pulling the shaking survivors from the harbor and rushing them to shore. Most of the survivors suffered from exposure. Wellington hospitals were packed, and casualty stations were set up in the railroad station and in public halls.

Vice President Starting Task of Seeking Convention Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will plunge into the race for the Democratic presidential nomination immediately after Easter. Humphrey is personally convinced he will have strong support from organized labor and the business community. This has been indicated in about 4,000 messages urging him to run after President Johnson's announcement that he would not accept renomination. Support in South The vice president feels he will have strong support in the South, which was lining up to back Johnson before the President said he would not run. Although Johnson himself has offered no active political support, many of the President's backers are pledging help to Humphrey. The vice president thinks the refusal of some of Johnson's mainstays, such as Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey and Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago, to make any commitments to candidates after the President's withdrawal is all to the good, so far as he is concerned. He thinks he will be able to get substantial support within the 118-vote Illinois and the 82-vote New Jersey delegations. His backers already are chipping away at the 115-vote Ohio and 130-vote Pennsylvania delegations. He does not concede all of New York's 190 votes to Kennedy. Humphrey's forces now claim

Death Count Rises to 34 as Violence Strikes New Cities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Racial violence struck in major American cities for the sixth consecutive night since the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., raising the national death toll for the period to 34. All but five were Negroes. While some of the worst hit cities cooled to the point where curfews were relaxed and patrols decreased, fresh outbreaks hit Tuesday in Trenton, N.J., Jacksonville, Fla., and Kansas City. Each city reported one death. Major Fires Firemen in New York City battled 25 fires which broke out almost simultaneously in a racially mixed Brooklyn slum which has been the scene of disturbances since King's murder in Memphis last Thursday. In Newark firefighters responded to six major fires and 75 minor ones in the first incidents of arson reported in the heavily Negro Central Ward since last summer's riots. But many Negroes helped firemen to carry hoses and authorities sent sound trucks through the streets broadcasting recordings of King's "I have a dream" speech. Meanwhile calm generally prevailed in the stricken neighborhoods of Chicago and Pittsburgh and officials in Washington and Baltimore expressed cautious optimism that violence in their cities may have run its course. Cyrus R. Vance, the President's special adviser to city officials in the nation's capital, said if progress toward restoration of law and order continues "we will be able to discuss shortly the orderly withdrawal of troops."
